DUNCAN MAN MISSING; FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

A Duncan man has been missing from his home since Tuesday, and the finding of bloodstains in his home on Allenby Road has led RCMP in the Upper Island city to suspect foul play.

Bill Parr, about 60, a part-time waiter at the Tzouhalem Hotel in Duncan, failed to report to work Tuesday. One of the hotel staff went to his home, half of a duplex on Allenby Road, noted Parr was missing, and eventually notified police.

Parr was understood to have lived alone. Allenby Road, where his home is located, is a part of the Old Island Highway.

Khrushchev Asks 'Angel Of Peace'

MOSCOW (AP)—Every newspaper in Moscow today took up the Soviet cry for a meeting between Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev in a new year's toast said such a meeting could solve most of the world's problems.

The Moscow papers printed assessments of reports from New York, London and elsewhere under identical headlines saying "people of the world favor meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev."

Khrushchev made what almost added up to a prayer for peace in his toast of friendship to the "wonderful American people" at a new year's reception in Moscow Thursday night.

TOAST PROPOSED

His toast as reported by Moscow radio:

"I propose a toast for America, for the wonderful American people, for President Eisenhower, a toast to have America and the U.S.S.R. reach agreement on abolishing the cold war, to have the angel of peace over us and not the demon of war."

Population Jumps

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population increased at a record rate in the first 11 months of 1957, rising 516,000 to an estimated 16,860,000 at Dec. 1, the bureau of statistics said today.

SPUTNIK DOWN, THINKS BRITON

JODRELL BANK, Eng. (Reuters)—Prof. A. C. B. Lovell, director of the world's biggest radio telescope here, today said he thinks it "very likely" that the first Russian earth satellite has already come down.

An extensive shower of meteors now is running into the atmosphere, and he expected that Sputnik I would be seen as just another fairly bright meteor as it burned up on its plunge to the earth.

Top Polish Scientist Given Asylum by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Rogers today announced the defection to the West of Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, internationally known Polish scientist.

The attorney-general said in an address at a National Press Club luncheon that Dr. Nowinski, a specialist in thermoelectricity, was granted asylum in the United States Thursday.

Similar asylum will be granted to his wife, Maria Franczka, and their daughter, Kristina, seven, both of whom are now in England, Rogers said.

Nowinski, 52, has for the last seven years been a professor at the University of Warsaw.

His specialty is a field of mathematical theory involving the stresses on metals and other materials under varying temperatures.

Knowledge in that field is particularly valuable in dealing with the problems of air friction heat encountered in jet aviation, rocketry, and in handling the extreme temperatures of nuclear reactions.

Dr. Nowinski was described as being more familiar with Russian work in this field than most U.S. scientists.

He has published more than 60 articles on the subject.

Hillary Reaches Pole After 24-Hour 'Sprint'

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP)—Mount Everest conqueror Sir Edmund Hillary won a double race to the South Pole tonight.

The New Zealander beat a rival British team and he did it with less than 20 miles' supply of fuel remaining.

Hillary and four other New Zealanders thus became the first men to reach the pole overland since Britain's Robert F. Scott in 1912.

But it was a close call. They had only one drum of gasoline left aboard their snow-cat tractor after a 24-hour forced march that covered 70 miles. It was good for barely 20 miles further travel.

And the five were so tired that the instant their sextant reading indicated the Pole, they camped on the spot.

They spurned the comfort of the relatively luxurious American polar base two miles away and bedded down as soon as they had refueled their success.

"Steering by the sun from earlier fixes we came bang on base," Hillary radioed to New Zealand's Scott base at McMurdo Sound.

"We are all very tired but well and very pleased to have arrived."

As for the fuel supply—"It was sufficient for 20 miles, so we were cutting it very fine."

He had ordered the rest of the expedition's trek over piled-up ice and snow.

It was a desperate gamble but it worked. The New Zealanders' rivals, Briton Vivian Fuchs and a dozen men, were 200 miles on the other side of the Pole.

The Hillary team reached the geographic bottom of the globe at 8 p.m. New Zealand time (midnight PST). In the Antarctic midnight sun the American base, where warmth and food awaited, was a dark blob on the snowy horizon. Saturday Hillary will trek the remaining two miles to a hero's welcome.

Canada to Protest U.S. Curb on Oil

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming said today the Canadian government will send a note to the United States government protesting the recent presidential order restricting imports of crude oil in the Pacific coast area.

He made the statement in the Commons after Opposition Leader St. Laurent and CCF leader Coldwell asked whether there had been any exchange of notes on the matter.

Mr. Coldwell said he felt the "voluntary" import restrictions ordered by President Eisenhower Dec. 24 were a violation of declarations of economic co-operation made following the NATO summit meeting in Paris. He suggested the Canadian government send a strong note of protest to Washington.

Mr. Fleming said the U.S. restrictions on Canadian oil imports make no sense.

CALLED AN OFFENCE

Not only that, but they were an offence against the tenor and principles of Canada-U.S. defence co-operation laid down in an exchange of notes between the two governments Oct. 26, 1950, in the first year of the Korean War.

Mr. Fleming said the restrictions are in ill accord with the communiqué issued after the

Hees Making Plans for B.C. Ship Service

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister George Hees said today he will make a full statement in the Commons Monday on negotiations with West Coast shipping companies for provision of passenger service to communities along the British Columbia Coast previously supplied by the Union Steamships with the help of a federal subsidy.

He said arrangements are now being completed.

Mr. Hees had said Dec. 19 that continuation of the subsidy would not be justified and Union Steamships Thursday stopped passenger service and curtailed freight service.

PEARKES TELLS COMMONS

Defence Purchases From U.S. To Be Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes indicated today the government will reduce purchases of defence material in the United States and order more from Canadian factories.

He said in the Commons that every effort is being made to ensure that there will be no continuation of practices such as described by a retired senior RCAF officer.

Group Capt. C. B. Limbrick, who retired in 1956 as RCAF director of guided missiles and special weapons, wrote in a recent magazine article that the U.S. is hampering and even blocking defence co-operation between Canada and the U.S.

He said at one point:

"I know of many millions of dollars worth of 'made in U.S.' equipment that is being used in Canada by U.S. and Canadian forces that could have been produced here at home."

"This equipment was deliberately prevented from being made in Canada by a conspiracy of forces in the Pentagon U.S. defence headquarters, other U.S. armed forces establishments and U.S. industry."

That flyin' car bizness will provide Granville Street curb service for Victoria cars.

'Help From Everyone' Acknowledged

Thursday conditions improved with 70 miles yet to go. Hillary decided to sprint.

The New Zealanders pressed on without thinking about rest—despite the gnawing fatigue which accompanies all exertion in subzero weather at the high Antarctic altitudes.

Hillary's expedition was a train of three snow tractors, one pulling a "caboose" and the others towing supply sledges. They had covered 1,200 miles from the McMurdo Sound coast since Oct. 14.

"Because of the very soft snow experienced," radioed Hillary, "the tractors are showing signs of wear and tear—but they have gone magnificently in quite unsuitable conditions."

He added: "The success we have had could not have been possible without the help we have had from everyone from the time the expedition was first planned."

"My thanks go in particular to every member of the expedition, whose support in Antarctica has put us where we are now."

Then he signed off to sleep. With a minimum of supplies he and his compatriots coaxed snow-cat tractors 500 miles over

AVA MUST HAVE SURGERY OR END CAREER

Screen Star's Beauty Scarred

LONDON (AP)—A Daily Express columnist says Ava Gardner damaged her beautiful face in an accident in a private Spanish bull ring last autumn and now needs an operation before she can make another movie.

William Hickey, the columnist, gives no source for his story but says:

"Ava has been told she must have an operation, possibly followed by minor plastic surgery. But she is terrified of undergoing the operation and has so far refused to do so."

The accident was said to have occurred when the screen star fell from a horse during a visit to the private bull ring of Angel Peralta, a leading Spanish horseback bull-fighter.

Ava made a sudden mysterious trip from Madrid to London last Oct. 29. She arrived at the airport with her face hidden in a scarf.

The actress went at once to a hotel and stayed there, not visiting any of London's night spots.

Local Building Values Up 5%

Victoria and Esquimalt Down But Oak Bay and Saanich Jump

Greater Victoria building values increased 5 per cent last year over 1956.

Total construction costs reported by Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt in 1957 is $18,454,743.

This compares with $17,522,393 in 1956 and $18,592,150 in 1955.

Saanich continued to show the fastest rate of expansion of residential areas, with 491 new homes.

Totals indicated a reduced tempo in home building, however, in 1956, Saanich built 533 new homes and 754 new dwellings were built in 1955.

No accurate comparison of building values between the two leading municipalities, Victorias and Saanich, is possible. Saanich this year increased its basis of estimate for new home costs to $10 per square foot.

Other highlights of the building roundup showed Victoria totals for the year decreased almost 12 per cent. Oak Bay jumped 20 per cent and Esquimalt dropped more than 50 per cent.

City Total Lowest Since 1952

Here is the breakdown by municipalities:

Victoria in 1957 issued 7,259 permits valued at $6,884,608. It was the lowest building total in the city since 1952. Officials felt this was due in part to the recent trend in new school construction. Most new schools are now being built outside the city boundaries.

Also, much new construction by the provincial government in city limits is not included in the construction totals as no building permits are required. Besides 133 new homes, Victoria built 4 duplexes, three apartments, six stores and office buildings, two assembly halls, seven warehouses, two factories and workshops, and seven commercial garages or service stations.

Building totals for Victoria over the last five years are, 1956, $7,937,808; 1955, $8,490,548; 1954, $7,332,125; 1953, $7,095,882; 1952, $5,081,696.

Saanich showed a 50 per cent increase in building values despite the decrease in the number of units built. Basis of estimates for costs jumped from $4 per square foot to $10 per square foot.

Saanich construction total of $7,522,140 includes cost of 491 dwellings and the new $890,000 Queen Alexandra Solarium, as well as one store and six garages. There were no duplexes, apartments, assembly halls, warehouses or factories constructed.

Effect of the increased valuation basis is seen in the report that 555 dwellings built in 1956 had a listed value of only $3,647,110. The 491 new homes in 1957 were valued at $6,668,200.

Total value of permits increased in Oak Bay from $1,817,200 in 1957 against 126 worth $1,798,100 the previous year. A big jump was due to issue of a $465,000 permit for the Oak Bay High School addition.

Esquimalt construction showed a big drop last year when only 176 permits were issued, worth a total of $880,205. Corresponding figures for 1956 were 244 permits worth $1,957,256.

The figures included 55 dwelling permits worth $675,220 in 1957 and 94 worth $1,149,450 in 1956.

service between England and France.

"It is a big success," he said. "The planes carry more cars to and from France than the Dover-Calais ferry."

THREE CARS

Mr. Tennyson said the specially-designed Bristol carrier would be able to carry three private cars, passengers, and freight in one trip.

He estimated one plane would carry back and forth an average of about seven cars and passengers in an hour.

(The Victoria-Vancouver boat carries about 40 cars in a one-way trip, taking about five hours.)

The fares, Mr. Tennyson said, would be no higher than the boat rates.

The Bristol Freighter can carry about 16,500 pounds, plus passengers. It is faster than the Dakota aircraft now in use between Victoria and the mainland.

12 MINUTES

He estimated it would take about 12 minutes to make the Victoria-Vancouver run. The distance by water is 72 miles, whereas the air-distance is about half that.

Mr. Tennyson said the service could be operated economically.

"All facilities already exist at Patricia Bay airport," he said. "The Bristol aircraft is so designed that it only needs a short take-off and a runway of normal length."

"I've had experience with this type of aircraft both in Europe and South America," Mr. Tennyson said. "They have proved successful and could be put to good use in this province, not only as an auto air-service, but to transport heavy machinery to northern British Columbia."

Canadians are "ready and anxious" for another federal election now, Victoria Conservative MP A. de B. McPhillips said here.

Present session of Parliament should be over by the end of this month, he said, "and a week or so later we expect to be opening up campaign headquarters and getting down to the matter of an election."

At one point he considered abandoning his machines completely and finishing on foot.

Continuation of poor conditions of the last few days gave Hillary and his four companions a difficult time, but the expected loss of height as they descended into the polar basin gave the tractors a welcome drop in altitude of 800 feet, and the engines responded immediately.

SECOND YEAR

For the first time in several days the drivers were able to move from low to second gear.

Hillary's pace across the glaciers and snowdrifts was phenomenal—up to 36 miles a day—until the party hit the worsened conditions this week.

With barely 100 miles to go Hillary had to abandon one Snotcat, jettison all but a minimum of fuel and gamble on making it with lighter weight. The gamble succeeded.

Hillary had about a 150-mile start on the 50-year-old Fuchs. He had the added advantage of not being tied down to making scientific measurements as he dashed across the continent.

But there was a touch of heroism in his decision to make the last 500-mile run with only light equipment and no particular advance planning.

Scott base reported that Hillary talked to Fuchs by radio early this morning when Hillary was still 45 miles from the Pole. Their conversation was not relayed here.

At the pole the five New Zealanders joined 17 Americans stationed at the International Geophysical Year base the Hillary's companions are Murray Ellis, Peter Mulgrew, Jim Bates and Derek Wright.

Most of their trek was made in never-ending daylight. The party preferred to travel at night, when temperatures had dropped a little and the snow surface was harder, and mostly slept during the "day."

The cold, hazardous trip took them along the Ross Ice Shelf, up the Skelton Glacier and over the treacherous, crevasse-torn polar plateau.

FLAGS CARRIED

Among their stores they carried two New Zealand flags to plant at the pole, marking their country's efforts in Antarctic exploration.

In London the New Zealand high commissioner, Sir Clifton Webb, immediately sent a message in which he told Hillary: "As London welcomed you after Everest, so again we extend hearty congratulations to you and all the New Zealand party on your splendid achievement in reaching the South Pole."

Tass news agency reported here meanwhile that a Russian Antarctic party on its way towards the "pole of inaccessibility"—the centre of the Antarctic continent—has arrived at a depot 235 miles from Mirny, the main Soviet base.

Liquor Interests Sued Over Shares

(From CP Dispatches) VANCOUVER—The family of the late Hugh John Davis started suit in Supreme Court here Thursday against two United Distillers companies, now in liquidation, and their directors.

The suit concerns 58,454 shares in United Distillers Limited which were sold about 1943 for $5.50 each. The claimants allege they were really worth about $25 each.

The Davis family charges a conspiracy to conceal from them the profits earned by United Distillers and misrepresentations to induce them to sell their shares at a price less than their actual value.

The claimants are Mrs. Beatrice Davis, widow, and her daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Emma Read, and her two children.

Defendants include Albert Loftus McLennan, George William Norgan, the executors for the estate of the late Isadore Joseph Klein, Hyman Harvey Klein, executors of the Davis estate, United Distillers Limited and United Distillers of Canada, John Dunbar & Company Limited, three Cuban companies and the Seaboard Syndicate of Panama.

With barely 100 miles to go Hillary had to abandon one Snotcat, jettison all but a minimum of fuel and gamble on making it with lighter weight. The gamble succeeded.

Hillary had about a 150-mile start on the 50-year-old Fuchs. He had the added advantage of not being tied down to making scientific measurements as he dashed across the continent.

But there was a touch of heroism in his decision to make the last 500-mile run with only light equipment and no particular advance planning.

Scott base reported that Hillary talked to Fuchs by radio early this morning when Hillary was still 45 miles from the Pole. Their conversation was not relayed here.

At the pole the five New Zealanders joined 17 Americans stationed at the International Geophysical Year base the Hillary's companions are Murray Ellis, Peter Mulgrew, Jim Bates and Derek Wright.

Most of their trek was made in never-ending daylight. The party preferred to travel at night, when temperatures had dropped a little and the snow surface was harder, and mostly slept during the "day."

The cold, hazardous trip took them along the Ross Ice Shelf, up the Skelton Glacier and over the treacherous, crevasse-torn polar plateau.

FLAGS CARRIED

Among their stores they carried two New Zealand flags to plant at the pole, marking their country's efforts in Antarctic exploration.

In London the New Zealand high commissioner, Sir Clifton Webb, immediately sent a message in which he told Hillary: "As London welcomed you after Everest, so again we extend hearty congratulations to you and all the New Zealand party on your splendid achievement in reaching the South Pole."

Tass news agency reported here meanwhile that a Russian Antarctic party on its way towards the "pole of inaccessibility"—the centre of the Antarctic continent—has arrived at a depot 235 miles from Mirny, the main Soviet base.

Only 100 'Leftovers' At City Post Office

Of the 100,000 letters and cards handled by the Post Office here over the Christmas season, only 100 are still undelivered.

These are letters and cards improperly addressed.

Unsealed Christmas cards for which the addressee can't be located are sent to the undeliverable section of the Vancouver Post Office. Sealed first-class mail gets more attention with attempts to track down the address through the directory. If this fails they are also sent to Vancouver.

In Vancouver, mail and parcels are processed again and as a last resort articles are opened. If this fails to disclose the owner, they are sent to the dead letter office in Ottawa and if unclaimed, articles are sold by auction at year's end.

Continuation of poor conditions of the last few days gave Hillary and his four companions a difficult time, but the expected loss of height as they descended into the polar basin gave the tractors a welcome drop in altitude of 800 feet, and the engines responded immediately.

Aged Pair Rescued In $3,000 City Fire

Condition Satisfactory In Hospital

An elderly James Bay couple rescued from a $3,000 fire at 321 Michigan Thursday night, is in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Frank Huber, 79, suffered second and third-degree burns, and Mrs. Huber, 82, shock, when the kitchen of their first-floor suite turned into a smoke-filled inferno shortly before 8.

Owner of the home, Leslie Donaldson, was writing a letter in the upstairs suite when he smelled the smoke. He sent his daughter Carol, 10, to call city firemen after he found flames "leaping at a window" in the kitchen of the Huber's suite.

Mrs. Huber, rescued through a window, pleaded with firemen to find her husband, who was believed to be in another room in the suite.

GROPING IN DARK

Mr. Huber was found groping in the darkness of the sitting-room by firemen Harry Mar- rion, Albert Bates, and James Marshall, who led him from the house.

Fireman Ed Ball who had joined the search with Lieut. Joel Broadwell, said "We sure ate a lot of smoke in there. And to make it worse, the lights in the house blew out just as we got inside."

The fire was confined to the kitchen and back porch with damage to the house estimated at $2,500, and to the contents, $500.

It apparently started in an armchair, probably from a dropped cigaret, Fire Chief James Bayliss said.

Two other children in the upstairs suite, Deborah Donaldson, four, and Leslie, two, were removed from the house by their father before firemen arrived.

Saanich Boy Badly Burned On Face, Arms

Roderick Butts, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Butts, 3521 Douglas, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today with first degree burns to the face, hands and arms.

He was burned when he threw a solvent-soaked rag into the basement furnace at his home Thursday night. The explosion shook the house, Saanich firemen said, loosening smoke-pipes which sent a shower of soot into the kitchen.

'Terrorism' Charged By Tunisia

PARIS (AP)—The Tunisian government charged today that French soldiers encircled and "terrorized" a Tunisian village on the Algerian border Thursday. It said when the troops withdrew two young Tunisians were found dead, four persons wounded and 13 missing. A carefully-worded communique from the Tunisian Embassy in Paris did not directly charge French troops with the casualties.

Russia Ready To Relocate B.C.'s Douks

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Province says a delegation of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors will shortly visit Russia to choose a site there for a relocation of the turbulent 2,500-member sect.

Russian Ambassador Dmitri confirmed in a telephone conversation from Ottawa that the sect has been offered three or four sites to choose from, the paper says in a story by City Editor Bruce Larsen.

"Delegates from the group will go to Moscow shortly and meet with a special committee of the department of our government which handles religious matters," the ambassador is quoted as saying.

MOVE PROPHESED

Bill Moojelsky, secretary of the Freedomite sect and leader of the four-man delegation preparing to visit Moscow, told the paper the proposed move would fulfill a prophecy, made when the Doukhobors left Russia in 1899, which predicted they would return in 40 years.

He said the fulfillment has been delayed but remains the main reason for the return. Detention of 100 Freedomite children at a dormitory school at New Denver, B.C., is "a contributing factor," he said.

Moojelsky said a committee has been gathering signatures of Freedomites over the age of 16 and other Doukhobors who wish to join the move to Russia.

"All Freedomites except about 15 families have signed and some non-Freedomites have signed, so we can count on at least 2,500 people. We expect many orthodox to sign later," he said.

Mr. Moojelsky said a few non-Freedomite Doukhobors in Saskatchewan and six Freedomite families at Hilliers, near Nanaimo, B.C., have already said they plan to go. All others would come from the Kootenay districts of B.C.

CPR ORDERS NEW LINER IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—Britain's drive to increase her export trade with Canada has been given fresh impetus by the announcement that a new 27,500-ton passenger liner will be built for the Canadian Pacific's North Atlantic fleet at the Walker-on-Tyne shipyards of Vickers-Armstrong.

The contract is expected to add about $23,800,000 to Britain's dollar trade over the next three years.

The new liner, as yet unnamed, is the third passenger ship ordered in Britain by the CPR since the Second World War.

Armed Russ Patrols Withdrawn

BERLIN (AP)—East Berlin returned to normal today after the Russians withdrew armed troops who had apparently been searching for deserters.

The troops were withdrawn Thursday night following a British announcement that a Russian sergeant had escaped to their sector of the city and asked for political asylum.

Russian soldiers had been watching every crossing point into Allied-occupied West Berlin and patrolling main street corners in downtown East Berlin.

It was the first time since the anti-Communist uprising of June 17, 1953, that armed Soviet troops had patrolled the city. Several West Berlin newspapers report that six Soviet officers had escaped from a Soviet army camp in East Germany and that one of them had been able to find refuge in West Berlin.

But West Berlin police, together with French, British and American authorities, said they had no information that supported the reports.

The British announcement said a Soviet soldier entered one Soviet officer and two

West Indies Joins Commonwealth

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The federation of the British West Indies was to come into being today as a member of the Commonwealth with the swearing in of Lord Hailes as governor-general.

The Caribbean islands joining in the federation take a big step toward independence but London will continue to supervise the federation until it approves efforts to establish effective self-government.

A federal legislature will be elected in March and set up a government in the temporary capital here. Princess Margaret is to open the first legislature April 22.

The former colonies in the new federation are Trinidad, Jamaica, Barbados and the Windward and Leeward Islands.

An Early Election?

UNDER OUR SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT one man, the prime minister, decides as he pleases when an election is to be called. He does not even have to consult his cabinet. His personal advice to the Governor-General, offered without notice, must be accepted.

Mr. Diefenbaker thus is in a position to dissolve Parliament and fix a poll at the moment of his choice. Though he leads a minority Government, he faces none of the constitutional difficulties faced by Mr. King after the 1925 election because Mr. Diefenbaker has been established, by a series of confidence votes in Parliament, as the undoubted chief adviser to the Crown.

It is now said in Ottawa that Mr. Diefenbaker intends to call an election in the spring and to this end has canceled most of his public engagements so that he may devote himself to another strenuous campaign.

This may well be true. All the logic of practical politics impels the Government to seek an early electoral verdict.

If the Government goes to the country soon it can hope to blame unfavorable economic conditions on its predecessors.

Above all, by going soon, the Government can forestall the consequences of its own policies before they become visible.

The Government has painted itself into a very tight financial corner. It has assured a vast increase in public expenditure and already has made a small reduction in taxes—though nothing like the tax reductions it promised last June. The nation is headed into heavy deficits under a Government which criticized its predecessor for not maintaining a strictly balanced budget.

Moreover, the provincial governments are restive and, encouraged by Conservative offers of largesse, are demanding impossible concessions. It will be advantageous for Mr. Diefenbaker if he can postpone a settlement with the provinces until he has held an election and thus avoid, before the poll, some decisions certain to be unpopular, especially with his essential ally, Premier Frost.

Other great issues can also be postponed by the device of an election. The Government need not clarify its foreign trade and tariff policy. It has referred all the complex, urgent problems of electrical power and gas to a royal commission which will not report for a year at least. The farm problem can be palliated for the time being by new legislation that assures higher farm prices and probably surpluses also, but the latter will not be apparent before the election.

Thus Mr. Diefenbaker can seek a parliamentary majority without really showing his hand and face up to inevitable difficulties of the most serious sort later on, if he succeeds at the polls.

All these political calculations are so obvious that it will be surprising indeed if Mr. Diefenbaker does not suddenly find, in the dying days of the present session, that he cannot carry on in a Parliament of minorities.

Already he is complaining against the tactics of the Liberal Opposition, though it has never voted against him or frustrated any of his policies.

Clearly he can get anything he wants out of this Parliament, for the time being at least, but it will not be difficult for him to find an excuse for dissolution and an appeal to the voters when, as he judges it, the going is good.

On constitutional grounds his decision cannot be questioned. On other grounds the voters must make up their own minds, probably before they know the government's long-run policies.

The Heavy Burdens

AS INDIA'S PREMIER NEHRU faces some of the greatest problems of his career, reports from that country indicate that his heavy burdens of office are taking their toll of his spirit. Now, in contrast to his earlier vitality, discouragement is said to depress him frequently. He has less and less opportunity to draw inspiration from the simple things of life in which he has always found his strength.

That is a serious development for the great sub-continent. For the mounting problems of today demand the greatest efforts of a leader at the peak of his form. The great labor of bringing the primitive nation of villagers—80 per cent of India lives in the villages—into the atomic age is one to tax any man.

Premier Nehru might solve some of the economic and financial problems more easily by abandoning his democratic concepts. But this he refuses to do. Along with the vast irrigation, power, mechanization, transportation, education and other projects which he is trying to advance, he is striving to erase the traditional bondage of Indian society—the caste system, the restrictions on women, and other religious and racial customs that would hold the country in medieval backwardness. In this endeavour, Premier Nehru faces increasing opposition from the conservative elements in the country—those who see attacks on the caste system, on the purdah and similar institutions as attacks on their own power and position in society. Mr. Nehru has incurred their enmity.

But at the same time he also faces heavy opposition from the left. The communists have made inroads in numerous areas of India. In a land where so many people have a bare subsistence, ideology can have little meaning. There is a continual struggle for simple survival, and a communist who can promise the people a more adequate life will get a following.

Mr. Nehru's reforms will take time. They are progressing but there is much to do. He has received much help from the West in the form of capital goods and technical assistance, but he will have to have more if his program is to succeed.

The situation is as crucial for the West as it is for India, for an India that went communist, or turned wholly to Russia for aid, would complete an Asian bloc of more than a billion population. At the moment, the aging Premier Nehru is the best single guarantee that this will not happen. It is in our own interests to strengthen his hand.

Too Valuable to Lose

THE UNITED STATES NATIONAL Committee of the Aging has noted the scientific manpower superiority of Russia in comparison to the West and has come up with a constructive suggestion.

There are, says one of the committee's spokesmen, at least 20,000 retired engineers and physical scientists who are kept out of action because of the arbitrary retirement age of 65 extensively observed in the United States.

"Such men," says the spokesmen, "represent America's best chance of fighting a staying action to prevent Russia from widening her lead in scientific accomplishment. . . . America can no longer afford to ignore this ready pool of mature brain-power."

Message From the Past

THE DALLAS NEWS REPORTS that the United States defence department shortly will declassify "top secret" documents dating back to the Revolutionary War.

This could open the door to a treasure chamber for American historians. Now we may hear the brand name of the tea that went into Boston harbor and the factual account of a cherry-tree chopping incident. If we can learn from the past to govern our affairs in the future, a great economic boom may emerge. Should the papers disclose the technique used by Washington for a famous pitch over the Delaware, we may be told how to make a dollar go further than it has gone for almost two centuries.

By a natural corollary, it is to be hoped Canada may follow a similar course.

NOT TO BE KEPT

By B. A. TOBIN

Amendment to the Resolution

THE traditional custom of making New Year's resolutions seems to be going out of fashion. A few years ago there was much more to do about it. Everyone talked about New Year's resolutions. There were jokes about them, declarations of intent. Lots of people made resolutions. Perhaps a few even kept them. There was a general impression that making them was the thing to do, even though you didn't do it. But you rarely hear about them these days, still more rarely meet a person who has made a resolution, and certainly never meet a man or woman who has kept one.

Tobin

Perhaps the last war had something to do with this change. With a more disillusioned view of the world, a more down-to-earth recognition of facts, people finally admitted to themselves that they had no intention of keeping their good resolutions for more than a few days at most. And so, with this understanding between a man and his conscience, there was little point in resolving anything.

Empty Phrases

The standard resolves about giving up swearing, smoking, or extravagance, or devoting one's self to study, kindness or good works, were seen for what they were—mere posturing, year-end conversation pieces, pleasant words which in no way implied a threat to our accustomed way of life.

The mantle of resolve was worn only temporarily. It was not patched when it became torn, it was not picked up when it was dropped. Within a week, more or less, it was frayed, tattered, bedraggled. Quietly, without a twinge of remorse and certainly without surprise, it was abandoned.

Poor-Beginning

The basic fact, of course, is that a resolution which needs the occasion of a birthday or a New Year's Day to give it stature is not likely to be long obeyed in any case. Waiting for a special day on which to start "reading good books," for instance, indicates that there is sufficient inherent reluctance in regard to the proposal to doom it from the start.

The resolution that should have the best chance of success is one born of firm conviction and implemented NOW. A calendar date can add nothing in the way of steadfastness if the original will is weak.

It is possible, of course, to bolster the ego by resolving to give up something you had no idea of doing anyway. You might resolve not to have a single early-morning dip off Dallas Road all year. You might obligate yourself to give up curry, which you hate, or to drink a glass of port wine whenever it is offered to you. There are many ways in which you can win a hollow victory through such a subterfuge, but the benefits are dubious.

Oddly enough, there are some resolutions, excellent in themselves, which should not be kept. It would be wrong, I feel, for a plumber, for instance, to keep a resolution never to forget his tools. By so doing he would destroy a part of his traditional character, deprive the rest of us of a bit of folklore which, libelous though it may well be, has become a recognized part of our lives.

Grant Reprieve

Similarly, a politician who resolved never to exaggerate should never be held to it, any more than we would insist that he carry out a promise to cut off his right hand.

To deny a traditional politician the benefits of exaggeration would be to compel him to become other than he is. He could neither properly laud his own party nor denounce his opponents. His platform style would be so handicapped that he might well become tongue-tied. He would have been robbed of his chief weapon, his favorite tool. In fact, his distinguishing characteristic. For his own and the country's good his resolution would have to be rescinded.

Wrong Effect

Or take the case of a hockey player who resolved to do no more fist-fighting on the ice. Half his value as a public attraction would be lost immediately. Stick-handle as he might, he would not have his original box-office appeal and everybody would heave a sigh of relief the first time he was pushed into the boards and his resolution was suddenly abandoned.

A similar abdication of his responsibilities would be noted in a wrestler who made a resolution to fight cleanly and according to the rules all year. He would never last the year, or indeed the month.

Without the pounding, gouging, hair-pulling and other illegal arts practised by the most popular wrestlers there would be little demand for their services. Their popularity would wane as their virtue waxed, and a few terse remarks from manager or promoter would quickly send the resolution where almost all resolutions eventually go—into limbo.

That is where mine rest. May they enjoy it undisturbed.

Indian Fire Victims

Fire has struck again at our people. This time at Duncan, V.I., where five children were burnt alive while their unemployed father was down at the river catching fish for their Christmas dinner.

This will show we need fire protection for our Indian reservations. The fire on Musqueam Indian reserve was another uncalled tragedy. When the firemen arrived their hose was too short to reach the fire. Why did not they find that out before the fire. Give us fire protection before more of our poor people are burnt to death. Bruce and Socialism

It's amusing but a little disappointing to read a stalwart of the Liberals of Mr. Hutchison's calibre thinking out loud and reflecting on the inevitable yet salutary socialist trends in our economic life, and yet remain a staunch advocate of a "free-enterprise" party.

Perhaps some day we can hope Mr. Hutchison can take the final step in his metaphysical meanderings and political soul-searching and come forth with an honest endorsement of the socialist movement in this country with its planning and control "for the general good." MIKE SUTTON.

Freight Rates and Wages

Premier Bennett and Mr. Bonner have strongly objected to a further increase in rail freight rates which, as they say, is no doubt another inflationary move. The point I would make is that with all the terrific increases in wages since they took office they have never had the courage on behalf of the other 75 per cent of the people of B.C. to object even slightly or even remind the unions involved that B.C. goods were being priced out of world markets and that many of the people they represent find it impossible to pay the inflated prices due to wage increases.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Problem of Sincerity

TOWARDS the end of his recent television report, President Eisenhower said that "to bring about such an easing of tension we believe that clear evidence of Communist integrity and sincerity in negotiation and action is all that is required." The question is what would be clear evidence of integrity and sincerity in negotiation? If we look at the record, examining it objectively and without preconceptions, the evidence shows, I submit, that some agreements negotiated with the Soviet Union have been observed very well and that others have been violated.

Lippmann

It is not true, as some among us like to say, that the Soviet Union always breaks its agreements, and it is not true, of course, that the Soviet Union always keeps its agreements.

The problem is to discern what is the difference between agreements that will work and agreements that will not work. If we can define that difference, we shall have a practical yardstick, something more than our own subjective wishes and fears, to determine how "clear" is the "evidence of integrity and sincerity."

A study of the record will show, I believe, that the agreements which have worked best have been those which fixed definite boundaries beyond which military forces may not advance or to which they must withdraw.

Highly Unreliable

On the other hand, agreements to do this or that behind or across the military boundary lines have proved to be highly unreliable and have usually foundered in tedious and frustrating debate.

The Yalta agreements, for example, have stood up quite well insofar as they fixed the boundary lines between the Soviet forces and the Western military forces. But the Yalta agreements about the character of the East European governments behind the lines of the Red Army have been entirely nullified, as have also the original agreements to unify the four zones of occupied Germany.

The Austrian treaty, which required the military evacuation of Austrian territory and its military neutralization, has worked. But the ambiguous formula about the unification of Germany which was adopted at Geneva has not worked. I myself cannot believe that Mr. Dulles, who, of course, knows the record, can ever have imagined that he had really reached an agreement about Ger-

As in the case of the freight rate increase, they must know the facts and are afraid of the (minority) labor vote but not of the railway companies.

The pulp strike is an example of the pussyfooting nearly all our politicians indulge in. Mr. Bennett trying to get the pulp companies to pay more than the 7½ per cent to satisfy the unions which brought the average wage to $20 a day with about 80 per cent of them comparatively unskilled labor.

When elected to office our politicians are supposed to act always in the best interests of the citizens as a whole and not for a privileged few.

The freight rate increase is fundamentally due to increased costs of all kinds due mostly to increases in wages. And so the vicious circle continues with our elected representatives sitting back afraid to do their duty.

Making a Mockery

Vancouver has joined (or is about to do so) the world movement that will, if unchecked, make a mockery of God's command: "Thou shalt keep holy the Sabbath Day and make it a day of rest." People who advocate such retrograde ways of life are never satisfied, and one extreme leads to another until the whole fabric becomes corrupted and, in time, completely evil.

To make the Sabbath Day, or part of it, a day devoted to commercialized sport, resulting in the congregation of noisy men and women, and the unnecessary employment of many persons, is to sanction the breaking of one of God's commandments, and no excuses can justify it.

Is there any cause for wonder at the present alarming state of the world? God's commandments are flouted with impunity, and little regard is shown for the virtues and traditions so prized some 30 or 40 years ago. Nations are at one another's throats and politicians rush frantically hither and thither trying to avert total (or at least partial) destruction of civilization. Never before has there been such world-wide unrest, such great fear regarding the future, and so little true thankfulness for blessings received.

I feel confident that millions of people throughout the world realize that only when we forsake our evil ways and return unto God for help and guidance can we expect to have our difficulties solved. T. FOX-DECENT.

Mr. Sloan's Task

I would appreciate space in your valuable paper to comment on the appointment of Chief Justice Gordon Sloan. The government is to be congratulated on the appointment of Chief Justice Sloan as chief administrator of the B.C. forest industry.

He has made comprehensive study of this important subject, which could adversely affect the economy of British Columbia.

It is hoped that he will be able to salvage some of the timber that has been allowed to deteriorate through inexperience of the administration. And what he is unable to salvage he can try to obscure from public view, and write it off as a total loss.

If the Chief Justice can accomplish this it may be a step in the right direction and help to establish public confidence in the forestry administration. DENNIS H. CHIVERS.

many with Mr. Molotov. If he did imagine that, as he now says he did, he was much more glib and far less astute than we all know him to be.

If there were time and space to do it here, I believe it could be proved in great detail that the agreements which work are those which deal with, as we may put it for short, the deployment of organized military forces; the agreements which work badly or not at all are those which require collaboration and depend on general notions, which are hard to define, which lend themselves to double meanings, such as unity, liberty, democracy.

A decisive reason why agreements on the deployment of forces are workable is that there is no problem of enforcement by inspection.

The Red Army is out of Austria, and it cannot come back without all the world knowing it instantly. There is no need of a corps of inspectors to watch whether the agreement to evacuate Austria is being observed.

Self-Enforcing

Military forces of the size needed for an aggression by invasion are too big to be hidden. For this reason, it can be said that agreements on military deployment are self-enforcing.

In my view, therefore, the thread to take hold of in this tangled skein is the suggestion from Moscow that there be a limitation of nuclear arms in, and perhaps even a military evacuation of, a great area of Central Europe, covering the two Germanys, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Nobody knows whether Moscow is serious about this or that it would negotiate seriously about it. What we can know is that this is the type of agreement which, if it were arrived at, would be likely to be workable.

On the other hand, there is little prospect of a successful negotiation and a reliable agreement, be it on the Western terms or on the Soviet terms, about disarmament in general.

The whole disarmament business, in fact, is on both sides more propaganda than anything else, and the more elaborate and complicated our programs become, the more certain we can be that nobody is really serious about them.

If, therefore, we are ourselves sincerely looking for evidence of Russian sincerity in negotiation, we shall look for it in some concrete issue having to do with the deployment of forces. We shall undertake a careful diplomatic exploration of some specific and limited aspect of the Soviet proposals to do something about the weapons, and the armies, that are stationed in the heart of Europe.

Looking Back at It All

WHEN the postman cascades our Christmas mail through the letter slot, we open the envelopes, note with pleasure the people who have remembered us and then put the cards on the livingroom plate-rail as part of the season's decorations.

In the great New Year's clean-up, we gather the cards in a basket and lay them aside for leisurely study. When all the fuss of the festivities is over, we have time to enjoy them more fully, letting each recall the sender and remind us of friendships and good times together.

Perhaps it's a sign of age, but I'm beginning to do the same with my Christmas-New Year impressions. The week comes in mounting waves that bump me off my feet, toss me around and eventually leave me gasping above the tide line. Too much happens too fast.

Some time later I have a chance to sort things out, to catch the flavor of incidents and draw from them an afterglow of satisfaction.

It has been that way this year.

HUMANITY'S ROSEBUD

I can sit and think now, sentimentally, of the young lady whom I held as a baby and who brought her own four-months old daughter to visit us briefly. I can recall the touch of the child's infinitely delicate hand curling around my finger, while wide, busy eyes roved over my face and a small mouth broke into an innocent smile. The season has been brightened by this rosebud of humanity.

I can recall a toast to the New Year and the light in old eyes that have met in such toasts for more than half a century. They hold the trust and affection which sustained them in good times and bad through life's long journey and still give them courage to meet the new day.

I remember and appreciate the quiet words that cut through the chatter of a gay party as an old friend, separated by distance but close in interest, renewed the year's greeting and made of it something more. The hand-clasp stayed a little longer and held the stuff of shared happiness and distress, the memories of other friends no longer present.

I can catch the physical exhilaration of a night walk along the firm sand of the beach—a quiet time sliced from the demands of Christmas and New Year—in company requiring no conversation. A sharp breeze blew from the east, wrinkling the sea and giving it small voice. The dog scampered ahead, making play of his exercise. Colored lights shone brightly from windows of hill-side homes, and shore poplars were dark broadwoods lifted toward a starless sky.

SPILLED GOLD

There is a dazzling image of mornings, too, when the sun slashed the sombre sack of the eastern sky to spill out its shining gold, and when the air, purified by frost, was a cooling drink.

A dozen tableaux are etched in the mind from a dozen home parties. A small child in sleepers spreads her limitless affection with the loan of Christmas toys to adults visiting her parents. A former athlete, growing rounder with the years, dances a polka to the Swedish Rhapsody on feet so light they would not break balloons. In a bright new home a man with melody in his fingers plays tunes that bring back old times to his waltzing guests.

The man who is Victoria's "friend of all the world" shows pictures sent to him by boys he helped to mold—pictures of sons and daughters those boys hope to send to him.

At the end of the holiday there is time to bring to mind these incidents—time to see them in clear lines, freed of the wrappings.

In our house we keep our cards for later savoring. It's a practice that is justified with impressions, too.

SWEARING-IN MONDAY

'Guard-Changing' Due for Saanich

By JOHN MIKA

Saanich Council's swearing-in ceremony next week, the 51st since the municipality was incorporated, will be a virtual "changing of the guard."

Magistrate Henry C. Hall, QC, will administer the oath of office when the 1958 councillors turn up for their initial meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall.

The new council, relatively young in years and experience, will strike a sharp contrast with those of the last few years as a result of the Dec. 12 vote which ended the "old-guard" dynasty.

Three new faces will be seen at the council table when Stanley Murphy, C. M. Nelles and Harold Todd are installed. Councillors George Chatterton and Ansle Worthington are still classed as relative newcomers to civic office.

The only veteran among the freshmen will be Coun. George Austin—a "voice-out of the past" in the new set-up.

Credit for the turnover in councillors has gone to Reeve Arthur Ash, re-elected to his second two-year term last month, who survived many wrangles with "old-guard" members like Joseph Casey, Leslie Passmore and Eugene Diespecker during his first term.

After the oaths are taken, the reeve will deliver his inaugural address and appoint standing committees for the year. Top posts in the important works and finance committees probably will go to Councillors Chatterton and Murphy who drew the most votes.

Council as a whole will make 10 appointments to various

Nova Scotia Cabinet Changes Announced

ONE OF THE FINEST ON RECORD

Ahhh...December in Victoria

One of the more pleasant Decembers ever enjoyed here went into the record book with a mean temperature 2.4 degrees higher than usual, and only a trace of snow.

Weatherman William Mackie said today the December mean temperature was 43.7 degrees. Maximum temperature was 55 degrees Dec. 8, and minimum was 32.4 degrees Dec. 30.

The rainfall total of 4.7 inches was normal, but there was only a trace of snow instead of the usual 1.7 inches. Although the total precipitation was normal, rain fell on 23 days during the month instead of the usual 19.

Despite the frequency of rain, the sunshine total managed to reach 72.3 hours, or 8.3 hours more than normal.

WIND APLENTY

The fine weather also brought more wind. Total wind mileage for the month was 11,014, well above the average of 8,560.

Statistics for 12 months show that 1957 was ordinary. Total precipitation was 22.7 inches, or 4.45 inches below normal, and total sunshine was 2,260.8 hours, an increase of 65.4 over the average.

December was the wettest month of the year and May the driest, with only .32 inch of rain. Highest temperature of the year was 81.2 degrees, recorded Sept. 13, during an extended dry spell, and the lowest 16.9 degrees Jan. 25.

YOUR HEALTH

Finding Indigestion Causes

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic, and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

In some persons, indigestion, gas or diarrhea is due to the eating of some food to which the person is sensitive. Some physicians still try to find what these offending foods are with the help of skin tests, but I think most allergists today would agree that skin tests are of little value for this particular purpose. They are of more value in the finding of the pollens or dusts that cause hay fever and asthma.

A person who suffers at times from indigestion and gas should think of the possibility that he is food-sensitive, especially when he knows that his nose is allergic, and especially when his mother tells him that, as a child, he suffered from eczema and hives, and perhaps some hay fever and asthma. He should suspect food-sensitiveness when there are certain foods that he cannot eat; in this case, his discomfort may be due to the eating of some foods the harmfulness of which to him he has not yet discovered.

Food-sensitiveness can cause a colicky pain in the abdomen which feels to the sufferer as if it were due to gas that cannot move onward. Perhaps when gas finally starts to move, the patient gets relief. Sometimes there is diarrhea, or the passage of much foul gas. Occasionally, there may be nausea and vomiting. Some persons feel mentally depressed or dull after eating the food to which they are sensitive, or they may get small hives, or canker sores in the mouth, or a stuffy nose, or, rarely, irritation of the urinary bladder or pain in a joint. Large hives, I think, are more likely to be due to emotion than to the taking of food.

If, often, a person goes a month without an attack it is obvious that if his trouble is due to a food, it cannot be one of the common ones eaten every day. It probably is not due to food at all, because a person sensitive to a food rarely eaten usually soon notes cause and effect. People highly sensitive to clams, crab or swordfish usually are well aware of their weakness.

There are two ways of identifying the offending foods. When the distress comes in occasional spells, I use "the diary method." With this, the patient keeps a record of the unusual food that were consumed a few hours preceding the upset. After four or five spells, a glance at the diary will often show what the offending food is. When the distress comes every day, the person should live for two days on a few foods that seldom give trouble. Usually, I give nothing but oatmeal for breakfast, with a little butter and sugar on it.

For luncheon and supper I give a piece of lamb, roasted or fried in butter, without any pepper or condiment; also rice cooked in water and eaten with butter and sugar. Canned pears are taken for dessert. The only drink permitted is water. No medicine must be taken. No other fat beside butter should be used in the cooking. On this "Elimination Diet" if the patient is sensitive to some common food, such as milk, eggs, chocolate, tomatoes, or onions, his distress will be gone in 24 hours. Then I start testing one or two foods a day, usually beginning with beef, tomatoes, gelatine, carrots, turnips, asparagus, string beans, arrowroot cookies, rye krisps and thin toast.

Another method sometimes useful is to give the patient a big meal of some food which he, for long, has feared to eat because his skin once reacted to it. Usually, he comes back the next day to say that nothing happened. Obviously, then, here is a food to which he is not sensitive. I would never stop eating a food simply because my skin once reacted to it.

LACK OF A CHEMICAL MAY PRODUCE PSYCHOSIS

Recently, Dr. D. W. Woolley, of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, in New York City, and Dr. E. E. Shaw, reported that when the body lacks a newly-discovered substance, called serotonin, the person suffers psychotic-like actions. Now, it is hoped that in some way the amount of serotonin in the body can be increased. Perhaps this would help some persons with psychosis.

This study calls attention again to the fact, now becoming more and more prominent in medical thought, that mental derangement can be produced by any one of a number of chemical substances circulating in the blood. As I have been pointing out in this column, the discovery of these substances has opened up a whole new field of a really scientific study of diseases of the mind.

THE RH FACTOR

Many mothers nowadays worry, I think too much, about their child's being harmed by an RH factor. Today, obstetricians are on the watch for these things; they can get a warning when there is likely to be serious trouble, and they can then prepare to combat it when the child is born. The obstetricians tell me that today it is only rarely that they have serious trouble. Seldom do they have to give the child large transfusions of normal blood. I have been reading of late that perhaps more common than the RH factor are troubles due to incompatibilities in the common A BO blood types.

Room For Two?

NEW YORK (AP) — Is New York an "open city" for any National League team that might want to move in? Or do the Yankees have exclusive rights to the only major league baseball show in town?

Commissioner Ford Frick and a four-man committee will wrestle with questions like that today when they start to explore the territorial problems of baseball. The shifts of the Giants and Dodgers to California put the spotlight on the muddled situation.

A committee appointed by Mayor Wagner to try to bring a National League team to New York has been assured by Frick that it will find the city "open." There were broad hints from Cincinnati last weekend that owner Powell Crosley, Jr., was thinking of moving his Redlegs. Crosley said the opinion among National League owners seemed to be unanimous that it should maintain a team in New York.

DEFINE RIGHTS

Frick and his committee are to spell out the territorial rights situation for all time and for all cities. It is believed they will work out some deal so that a large city can have two teams without violating the rights of the club already operating in the city.

Under so-called baseball law, the circuit of either major league can not be changed to include any city in the other circuit except by the unanimous consent of the clubs in both leagues.

The committee is expected to approve an amendment that will be submitted to the next joint meeting of the majors, Jan. 25 in New York.

When the leagues discussed this problem at meetings in Colorado Springs, Colo., in early December, they were unable to agree. The National sought to make available for future moves all the territory of the five New York boroughs and Long Island. The American wanted exclusive rights with the exception of Brooklyn.

Flyers on Top In Midget Loop

The midget division Flyers grabbed a one-point lead Thursday when they trounced Cougars 8-3 in Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association activity at Memorial Arena.

Paced by Simon Whitlaw, Mike Woodley and Dick Brown, each with a pair of goals, Flyers were never behind. Canucks and Royals battled to a 1-1 draw on goals by Doug Holcombe, for Canucks, and Bill Carlow, for Royals.

Action scheduled for the playoffs today in the arena has been rescheduled Saturday when Senators met Maroons at 4 and Capitals play Royals at 5 p.m.

Argonauts After Rose Bowl Hero

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union are negotiating with Don Sutherland, hero of Ohio State's Rose Bowl victory over Oregon, General Manager Lew Hayman said Thursday.

Sutherland, whose 21-yard field goal in the fourth quarter broke a 7-7 deadlock and won the game 10-7 Wednesday, conferred with coach Hamp Pool in Pasadena, Calif. He is reported to have confided to teammates that he will play in Canada, if his demands are met. Sutherland is a native of Toronto, Ohio.

BALLOON OVER BOWL

This Eyeshade Tops 'Em All

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It may sound like a devious scheme but one man has suggested that the only thing needed to get the Los Angeles Dodgers into Memorial Coliseum next season is a balloon.

A big balloon, 50 feet in diameter. It would be to keep the sun out of players' eyes by providing them with the world's biggest eyeshade.

One of the chief obstacles to an agreement that would let the baseball team play in the 100,000-seat coliseum has been a lack of accord over where home plate should be.

The Coliseum Commission doesn't want it at the west end because it would be necessary to tear up considerable turf there. The Dodgers don't want it at the east end because the sun would peer squarely in the eyes of batters and catchers.

Contractor Van Harris marched into a commission meeting Thursday with a big drawing, showing a huge balloon anchored over the west end of the stadium by three cables.

The idea, he explained, would be to adjust the position of the balloon so it would cast a shadow over home plate, relieving the batter of the burden of squinting at a curve ball through blinding sunlight.

As the game and the sun moved along, Harris explained, the position of the balloon could be changed by winches on the ends of the cables.

It might cost $100,000 or so, Harris admitted, but the commission could recover some of that amount by selling advertising space on the side of the balloon.

The commission took no action on Harris' suggestion and later deadlocked 4-4 on a proposal that would have amended the conditions under which the team could use the big bowl.

Solons Sign Sisti To Replace Heath

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League Thursday announced the signing of Sibby Sisti, 37, as manager for the 1958 season. No salary figure was disclosed.

Sisti replaces Tommy Heath, who moved to Portland as general manager and field manager.

Sisti played with the Boston National League club for 11 years. His last season with the Braves, 1954, he played as a utility man. He has played every position except pitcher and catcher.

Sisti has been with the Milwaukee Braves' farm system since he started managing in 1953.

Red-Hot Warriors Threaten Flyer Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Rossland Warriors chalked up another win Thursday night—their seventh in eight games—and gained two more valuable points on the leading Spokane Flyers of the Western International Hockey League.

There was no action in the Okanagan Senior League. Tonight the leading Kelowna Packers will play third-placed Vernon Canadians and Kamloops Chiefs. In second spot, will meet Penticton V's. Action in the Western Interior League will resume Saturday night.

Thursday night's loss for the Smoke Eaters, traditional rivals of the Warriors, was their first in five games. They pulled themselves out of the cellar New Year's Day with a win over Nelson.

Captain Bobby Kromm got Trail's lone goal against Rossland. Pinok McIntyre, and Frank Turk made it 2-0 in the second period after a scoreless first frame. Kromm scored early in the third but Ray Demore and Bud Andrews scored two more for Rossland in the closing minutes to give the Warriors a comfortable win.

Reno Zaniar consistently turned back the Trail forwards, stopping 34 shots. Only four penalties were called during the game, three of them in the first period.

Ernie Had Long Wait For His Second Ace

It took Ernie Kermode 10 years to sink his second hole-in-one. He drove the 110-yard 11th at Cedar Hill Golf Club this week, using his six iron. Ernie was playing in a foursome with Allan Kay, Bob Wilson and Al Goodacre at the time.

Bays Face Tough Task At Weekend

Oak Bay Wanderers will have a determined look in their eyes Saturday when they meet Vancouver's Kitsilano Kats at Windsor Park in an exhibition English rugby match, starting at 2 p.m.

Rated as one of the best teams in the Vancouver league and present holders of the mainland league's championship, the Kats have proven troublesome to the Bays every time they met in the past.

Last season Kats defeated the Bays in B.C. Rownsell Cup championship play, and in a pre-season game this year the Vancouver team trounced the Oak Bay squad in Vancouver.

SAINAS CAPTAIN

Captained by the fleet and powerful George Sainas, who is also captain of the Vancouver Reps, Kats will be out to re-establish their authority at the weekend.

JBAA first and second division teams will meet in an inter-club exhibition at Carnarvon Park, starting at 2 p.m.

It will be second division coach John Kerr's first opportunity to take a look at his new charges, composed mainly of members of Mayo Vampires' entry in the Victoria Intermediary Canadian Football League.

Easy Sailing For Aussie XI

CAPETOWN, South Africa (Reuters) — Australia, claiming South Africa's last eight wickets after lunch for 32 runs, completed an overwhelming victory in the second cricket test match here today.

A hat-trick by left-arm spinner Lindsay Kline, who dismissed the last three batsmen with successive balls, contributed to Australia's win by an innings and 141 runs. South Africa, who had followed on 240 runs behind were out for 99.

Only Trevor Goddard, who carried his bat for 56, showed any confidence against the Australian bowling.

Scores were: Australia 449; South Africa 209 and 99. Australia now is one up in the five-match series. The first test was drawn.

Australia, bolstered by 449 runs in its first innings, re-fired all South Africans in their first time at bat on Thursday at only 209 runs. With a gap of 240 runs separating them from the visitors, the South Africans were forced to go right back to bat in their second innings. By close of play, they had only 19 more runs for one wicket, leaving them still 221 runs behind.

Even Injuries Fail To Slow Down Habs

Moore, Richard Lead Montreal Win Over Leafs

By The Canadian Press

The Montreal Canadiens of 1957-58, one of the most powerful teams ever assembled in the National Hockey League, have a good chance to break two league records this season.

The Canadiens turned the corner into the second half of their 70-game schedule by whipping Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 Thursday night to go 12 points ahead of the second-place New York Rangers who have played two more games.

The win was their 23rd in 36 games and gave them, with five ties, a total of 51 points.

By stepping up their pace just a trifle in the remaining 34 games they can break Detroit Red Wings' 1950-51 record of 101 points during a season and their own record for total wins, set in 1955-56, of 45.

TWO FOR MOORE

In Montreal before 14,275 fans, Dickie Moore scored twice for the Habs to make his season's total 18. Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard counted once to keep abreast of Moore.

Claude Provost and Jean-Guy Talbot added the others.

Toronto scorers were Brian Cullen and George Armstrong. Canadiens, who waged a 27-penalty battle with Boston Bruins Wednesday night, were relatively peaceful last night and only Andre Pronovost felt inclined to do battle. Bob Baun of the Leafs felt the same way and the two drew majors for fighting in the third.

The teams each had 30 shots on goal.

Canadiens now have taken injuries to Maurice (Rocket) Richard, netminder Jacques Plante, Jean Beliveau, Henri Richard, Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrin and assorted others with scarcely a stumble and with the Rocket and Beliveau due back this month the rest of the season should be only a question of how big a total they can pile up.

In Toronto Saturday night Rudy Pilous will make his debut as coach of Chicago Black Hawks. A 43-year-old veteran of minor league jobs, Pilous moves to the last-place Hawks after a successful career with their farm team, St. Catharines Teepees of the OHA Junior A series.

Meeting the Chicago press Thursday, Pilous, who frequently provides colorful copy, said: "I don't expect to be a miracle man, but we'll try our hardest for fourth place. . . . My team will know, though, that I believe a hockey club should battle for its share of the ice and more than its share of the puck."

John Rides Again

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Jockey Johnny Longden was back on a horse Thursday—the first time since he broke his ankle in a riding accident last summer.

Longden was aboard Wayward Queen and exercised his Alberta Ranches filly over Santa Anita's mile course.

He is confident he'll be back racing by Feb. 1, Longden, dean of jockeys, holds the world record with 5,090 victories.

Cartmell on Sidelines In Vancouver Playoffs

The battle between Vancouver curling rinks for the right to represent the mainland city in the provincial Consols play-off by Tony Gutoski and the winners of a Jan. 11 meeting between Wilkie Gardner and Gerry Walls, Victoria, Duncan, the Alberni Valley and Nanaimo will each send two rinks to Vancouver Island playdowns, slated to be held at Nanaimo.

Two winners at each club will play a round-robin series to determine a representative in the Consols playoffs at Penticton starting Feb. 3.

One of the big surprises of the recent mainland playoffs was the defeat of the Bung Cartmell rink by Kels McMurdo at Capilano. The other Cap quartet is skipped by Art Merrick.

NEW COACH HASN'T GOT GET-RICH-QUICK PLANS

CHICAGO (AP) — Rudy Pilous, new coach of the last-place Chicago Black Hawks, hopes to make a playoff berth in the National Hockey League race.

Pilous, 43, former coach and general manager of St. Catharines Teepees in the Ontario Junior Hockey League, was named Hawk coach Dec. 27 and directs Chicago for the first time against the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday.

"I don't expect to be a miracle man," said Pilous, who succeeds Tommy Ivan, former coach continuing as Hawk general manager. "But we'll try our hardest for fourth place and a playoff berth in the Stanley Cup series. I've got to get acquainted with this club and I know there's no get-rich-quick formula in hockey."

FIRST STEP BY BIG FOUR

TORONTO (CP) — Representatives of the Big Four Football Union clubs gather here Saturday to prepare the way for the league's annual meeting and the proposals it will submit to the Canadian Football Council later this month.

Tigers to Bite Where It Hurts

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers are adopting a tough policy on player salaries and some of the higher-priced talent can expect cuts in 1958.

General Manager John McHale says the Tigers in the past have been "extremely generous to mediocre baseball players."

"We're going to take a long, hard look at performance," McHale told reporters Thursday.

"Players who do good jobs will be rewarded. Players who don't do as well as expected can expect adjustments."

Over the years the Tigers have had one of baseball's highest payrolls, despite the fact that the club has not won a pennant since 1945.

MOTOR CITY TOUGH ON MENTORS

Skinner Latest to Trip in Coaches' Graveyard

By JACK BERRY

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit rapidly is gaining the embarrassing label of "coaches' graveyard." Detroit Red Wing coach Jimmy Skinner was added to the "fired-and/or-resigned-in-Detroit" list Thursday.

In little more than a year, two major league baseball managers, one professional football and one professional basketball coach were axed in the motor city as well as Skinner.

Bucky Harris of the Tigers started the string late in the 1955 baseball season and it was picked up last spring by Chuck Dressen of the Washington Senators with Cookie Lavagetto replacing him during a trip to Detroit.

Buddy Parker resigned the Lions' job Aug. 12 and the volatile Charley Eckman was asked to leave the basketball Piston job in December.

Skinner, who was replaced by former Red Wing great Sid Abel, said persistent migraine headaches resulted in his resignation.

"My doctor (Dr. Milton Kossley) told me to step down," Skinner said in a surprise announcement.

"I've had the headaches off and on since 1943 when I suffered a concussion while playing amateur hockey at Flin Flon in Manitoba," Skinner said.

"The constant worrying makes it worse. I called Jack (general manager Jack Adams) several times when we were on the road last spring and asked to resign and we were winning the title then," he said.

Never before in the 39-year-old Skinner's 4½-year tenure as Wing coach have there been so many worries, however. The highest the Detroiters have been this season was a brief tie for third place.

They now are in fifth. Skinner and the Wings won the National Hockey League and Stanley Cup titles in his first season but lost both the crowns to Montreal the next season and last year won the league championship but bowed out to Boston in the semifinals.

Adams emphasized the resignation had nothing to do with Detroit's league standing and said Skinner would remain with the Wings as a scout.

Abel, also 39, has been a television commentator on Wing home games, in addition to his manufacturer's representative job.

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

If you're itching for a chance to christen that new steelhead rod you found under a tree Christmas morning, don't pass up this weekend.

Of course, the fish, unpredictable critters at best, or a change in the weather could spoil things, but I'll be surprised if this isn't the best weekend for the big sea-going rainbows we've had this winter.

In fact, there should be at least three good weeks in store for the boys who don't mind leaving a few lures snagged on the bottom.

Steelhead have been in most of Vancouver Island's east coast streams for a few weeks, but high water has made it tough to get at them in most places.

Frosty nights and dry days during the past week have slowed the runoff and many of the streams are in near-perfect fishing condition. The traditional Christmas Day steelhead expeditions by many of our old-timers were mostly a waste of time, but there have been some excellent catches in the past few days.

Any of the larger streams could get hot at any time, but right now the Cowichan and Quinsam Rivers look like the best bets for Saturday and Sunday. The Campbell should also be good and the Puntledge, Oyster and Nanaimo Rivers could be worth investigating.

On the east coast, the Sooke, Gordon and San Juan Rivers are also holding some good ironheads.

Top End of Cowichan Hard to Beat

If your preference is trout, there are sea-run cutthroats up to three and four pounds around the mouths of the Campbell, Puntledge, Courtenay, Tsolum, Big Qualicum, Cowichan, and several other streams.

Headwaters of the Cowichan are also producing good numbers of trout, which seem to be spawning later than usual, and bait fishermen and trollers who can stand the cold are pulling some heavy fish out of the lower end of Cowichan and off the mouths of Shaw Creek and Robertson River.

Although steelhead are being taken in all parts of the Cowichan River, the top four miles, where at least 20 steelies have been hooked in the past three days, should be hard to beat.

They are averaging around nine pounds but a run of bigger steelhead usually hits the Cowichan about the second week in January.

Best of the artificials at the Cowichan have been golf tee spinner and golf tee lures and double salmon egg flies. More important than the choice of a lure is the ability to bounce it along the bottom. Shallow lures don't hook many steelies.

Salt water anglers are taking some good winter springs and bunches of grise off Oak Bay. Most of the regulars are using Strip Teaser lures with six to eight ounces of weight and 40 to 60 feet of line. One productive area has been between the blinker light and Chain Islands.

Albie Davies, out for three hours Thursday morning, lost a good fish but brought back 16 and 7½-pound springs. Harry Liffon had a pair of 11-pounders and a jackspring, while Charley Guiguet hauled in a 13-pound spring Tuesday.

A few big springs are also starting to show in Saanich Inlet, often hitting and breaking away from light grise lines. However, Vic Humphries boated a 15½-pounder and J. Johansen of Regina happily pulled in a 14½-pounder at the Brentwood end Wednesday.

Limits of grise and jack springs are being netted consistently in all parts of the inlet with many of the quotas recorded by anglers using bucktail flies. Among the top catches brought in at Goldstream this week were those taken by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rosin, Roy Herbert, Jim Snare and Art Mawer. Bluebacks and an occasional winter spring are also hitting off Crofton and deep fishing is producing a few big springs in Sansum Narrows.

Top Division Squads Muscle Into Picture

The major leagues of English soccer start playing Saturday for the Association Cup.

Hundreds of villages, hamlets and cities have battled since August for a place in the cup competition. Now the number of teams has been narrowed to 64 and the first and second divisions have their first cup games on tap.

Two small-city teams are still in there fighting. United of Hereford, a city of 33,000, will battle Wednesday of Sheffield, a city of 522,000, at Hereford. It will be the first time a first division club has visited Hereford.

Yeovil Town, with a population of less than 20,000, will travel to London to fight Fulham, leaders of League II.

The cup winner won't be decided until May 4 in the big cup final at Wembley Stadium.

While the teams will devote some Saturdays to cup play, they also will be battling for the league titles. Both competitions run parallel.

The Wolverhampton Wanderers hope to win both the cup and the League I championship, but it will be a tough job. No team has won the double crown in this century.

The Wanderers are three full games in front of the pack in the league and are rated to win the championship. In Saturday's cup contest they should manage an easy win over Lincoln City, an also-ran in the second division.

Four of the 32 cup games Saturday are between first division clubs, four are all second division clashes and two bring together third division teams. The other games, set up by a draw, are a mixed lot.

Golf's Golden Trail Opens In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1958 winter golf trail opens today with a field of 152 set to tee off in the 32nd Los Angeles Open and a purse of $35,000.

Playing the Rancho municipal course for the third straight year, the Los Angeles event as usual attracted most of the big-name professionals and a young army of lesser-lights. Rancho measures 7,170 yards and par is 36-35-71.

Doug Ford won the 1957 tournament and is a strong threat to win the $7,000 winner's prize. Last year he won with a 290, four under par for the 72 holes. His immediate runners-up were Jay Hebert, 281; Art Wall Jr., and Jack Burke Jr., with 283. They are on deck for this year's show, as well as Toronto's Al Balding, who finished eighth in money winners among Canadian and U.S. pros.

Leahy Discharged

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame football coach, was discharged from hospital Thursday after a medical checkup.

A stomach condition prevented Leahy from accepting the job of head football coach at Texas A and M. He said he still was interested in becoming athletic director at the Texas school but would remain in his insurance business if that post was not offered.

SUE GETS FIRST TASTE OF FLORIDA 'SUNSHINE'

Rain wiped out all but a few matches scheduled for Thursday in the Dixie Open Tennis Tournament at Tampa, Fla.

Mrs. Louise Brown, Canadian women's champion from Toronto, blasted out a 6-4, 6-0 win over Tampa's Sylvia Hardaway in a match moved from the soggy clay courts to drier concrete courts.

Victoria's Susan Butt had her match postponed and is among those scheduled for double duty today. An early start was made in an attempt to catch up the time lost through the re-scheduling.

Old Quarterbacks Just Fade Away...

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The high pressure of quarterbacking a million-dollar professional football team may be the reason for the retirement of Norman Van Brocklin of Los Angeles Rams.

Van Brocklin, announcing his retirement Thursday night after nine years with the National Football League Rams, said only:

"Nine years is a long time and I've been around that long."

Pete Rozelle, general manager of the Rams and a close friend of the quarterback, had an informal opinion.

Rozelle said Van Brocklin at the age of 31 was feeling the brunt of the responsibility of a field general and that with three young daughters he should begin a business of a permanent nature.

Van Brocklin joined the Rams in 1950, but saw little action that year behind the seasoned Bob Waterfield. The next season he shared the quarterbacking job with Waterfield and in 1953, after Waterfield retired, he became the team's No. 1 signal caller.

Van Brocklin was the NFL's leading passer in 1950, 1952 and 1954. He was second in 1951 and 1953. During his pro career he completed 1,011 out of 1,897 passes. Last season he threw 265 passes, completing 132 for 2,105 yards and 20 touchdowns.

Shag Says Jan. 22 Marlins' Deadline

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — President Frank Shaughnessy of the International League said this week the Marlins Baseball Club must find a place to play its games by Jan. 22 if Miami is to keep the team.

The league holds its schedule meeting on the date named by Shaughnessy. He said three other cities are seeking Miami's franchise but named only Jersey City, N.J.

Marlins are without a home field because of problems involving a concession contract at Miami Stadium where they formerly played.

The possibility of using the Orange Bowl is being explored although it is designed for use as a football stadium.

Skier Breaks Leg On Way to Hear Bad-News Message

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) — Canadian ski champion Dave Jacobs, in hospital here with a multiple fracture of his left leg, has not been told his father died in Montreal Sunday, team manager Patrick Ramage said Thursday.

Jacobs was training here for the British Commonwealth winter games and the world ski championships.

He broke his leg Monday while skiing down to St. Moritz to take a phone call from Montreal. The call would have told him that his father, Bernard Jacobs, had died the previous day after a heart attack.

Dave said he fell down a 10-foot vertical drop while "taking a short cut" to get to the phone.

Bruin Brawl Brings Boone Big Break

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins today called up Carl (Buddy) Boone to replace right winger Leo Labine, hurt in Wednesday night's National Hockey League brawl with Montreal.

Boone, a winger for Springfield, the Boston American Hockey League farm club, will join the Bruins in New York Saturday in time for their contest against the Rangers.

Labine is expected to miss at least two games as the result of an operation for a broken tendon in his right hand. He also received five stitches following the bench-clearing free-for-all in the game Montreal won 4-3.

VETERAN RIDER Johnny Longden exercised a horse Thursday for first time since his leg was broken last summer. Despite reports that he might be through with riding, Longden has insisted that he will be in competition again about Feb. 1.

Guess Who Would Win After Taxes

MELBOURNE (AP) — Mervyn Rose, Australian Davis Cup doubles star, consulted a tax expert Thursday, then said: "I am not likely to turn professional."

Rose said he was amazed at how much of any five-figure amount he might receive from professional tennis promoter Jack Kramer he would have to pay out in taxation. He said he will talk with Kramer today in Sydney.

"If Kramer is worried about what Ken Rosewall is costing him, I don't think he will be able to offer me an acceptable figure."

Meanwhile at Brisbane, Pancho Gonzales, pro champion from Los Angeles, defeated Australia's Lew Hoad Thursday in a thrilling, five-set battle that opened their 100-match series.

An overflow crowd of 9,000 fans at Milton Courts saw the tall Californian edge Hoad 5-7, 6-6, 6-2, 4-6, 9-7.

Police reinforcements were called out to control crowds seeking admission. More than 3,000 fans in this tennis-mad city were turned away and more than 500 were permitted to sit on the grounds rimming the courts.

It took Gonzales two hours and 33 minutes to conquer the former Wimbledon champion and Davis Cup star. Hoad was more impressive than when he first turned pro last summer and absorbed beatings from most members of promoter Jack Kramer's tennis troupe.

Shack Sidelined For Six Weeks

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A broken bone below the left knee will keep Ed Shack, 20-year-old Providence Reds left-winger, out of American Hockey League competition for about six weeks, it was reported Thursday.

An X-ray showed a fracture of the fibula in the leg, injured in Wednesday night's game with Cleveland Barons.

NBA RATINGS

Basilio Continues To Pile Up Honors

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Middleweight champion Carmen Basilio, who wasted the crown from veteran Ray Robinson during a "lion-hearted" performance, was named "boxer of the year" for 1957 by the National Boxing Association.

Basilio was given the honorary title in the NBA's first ratings of 1958. Fred Saddy, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said in citing the former welterweight champion:

"Basilio, a lion-hearted fighter, gave away height, weight and cleverness to Robinson and still whipped him. Basilio bears himself with the dignity of a champion. He has been a careful trainer and a courageous fighter."

ADVICE TO BIG BOYS

Saddy had New Year's advice for fighters in the heavyweight division, especially title contenders.

"Interest in the heavyweight division is important to boxing and, with complications involving the champion, there is no reason why those listed as contenders should be searching in the backwoods for competition while avoiding each other," he said.

Saddy said a "natural" bout to establish the rightful top man to challenge champion Floyd Patterson would be between Eddie Machen and Zora Folley, rated one and two in that order.

Here are the champions and top contenders in each division, in order, in the NBA's January ratings:

Heavyweight: Champion, Floyd Patterson, New York; 1, Eddie Machen, New York; 2, Zora Folley, Arizona; 3, Ray Harris, Texas.
Light Heavyweight: Champion, Archie Moore, California; 1, Harold Johnson, Pennsylvania; 2, Yves Durie, Baltimore, N.B.; 3, Tony Anthony, New York.
Middleweight: Champion, Carmen Basilio, New York; 1, Ray Robinson, New York; 2, Gene Fullmer, Utah; 3, Joey Giardino, Philadelphia.
Welterweight: Title vacant; 1, Isaac Legari, 2, Gil Turner, Philadelphia; 3, Virgil Atkins, Missouri.
Lightweight: Champion, Joe Brown, Louisiana; 1, Kenny Lewis, Michigan; 2, Ralph Dupas, Louisiana; 3, Duffie Hall, Illinois.
Featherweight: Champion, Reg G. & G. (Kid) Reasey, Nigeria; 1, Chet Zima, France; 2, Ricardo Jorcano, Mexico; 3, Davey Moore, Ohio.
Bantamweight: Champion, Alphonse Halimi, France; 1, Raul Macias, Mexico; 2, Leo Spizones, Philippines; 3, Mario d'Agost, Italy.
Flyweight: Champion, Pascual Perez, Argentina; 1, Young Martin, Spain; 2, Ramon Arias, Venezuela; 3, Fone Kengetch, Thailand.

City Hall Observer Peers Into Municipal Future for 1958

By PETE LOUDON, Times City Hall Reporter

Looking ahead into 1958, some events in the municipal field can be predicted with reasonable confidence.

The B.C. government will scuttle Victoria amalgamation in 1958 and turn down requests for a royal commission to study municipal union.

A private bill for a separate charter for Victoria will fail.

Taxes will rise.

Woodward Stores Ltd. will choose a store site in the city, but not that of the present city hall.

And here's why.

There are top level figures in the government who say amalgamation is like getting married—you have to try to find out. What the municipalities want a Royal Commission to tell them, is what municipal union will do to municipal taxes. In effect: will it hurt?

The experts say too many factors cannot possibly be known in advance—the general economy of the country, the demand for services, the demand for improved wages, the demand for increased welfare disbursements.

Greater Victoria has already had services of a reliable firm of investigators. In 1956 the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada conducted a lengthy study of amalgamation in this area. All municipalities bared their books. All possible co-operation was given.

The report recommended full amalgamation. A committee was set up to study the report. It collapsed before the report was fully analyzed. No single municipality either praised or condemned the report.

'NO' Is Answer to $50,000

The experts ask: Does anyone think the government will spend $50,000, the estimated cost of a royal commission, in view of all this? Their prediction is no.

Few of those in the know feel there is any better hope for Victoria's bid for a private charter. Vancouver has the only private charter in B.C. The non-conformity with the rest of the province has been difficult in the past and a certain amount of duplication of legislation has been inevitable.

Victoria, with its population of 54,584, is not so much larger than several other B.C. communities that the precedent of a private charter might not cause similar requests from other centres. This would dilute the scope of the new Municipal Act. So a thumbs down vote is predicted.

Woodward Stores' negotiations with the city have been under way now for six weeks; nothing has happened. The company has options on numerous properties close to city hall and has indicated it would buy the hall, the fire hall and the market building, as well as a block of Cormorant Street, if the price is right.

But when the company first started taking options, the word got around—and the prices went up.

It is now understood the store would save on initial property investments by using its own land which faces on Pandora, Blanshard and Cormorant. It also holds options on other buildings in this area. The location might not be as advantageous. The property deal might be cheaper.

In view of the long lapse in negotiations with the city, however, most guesses favor the Pandora-Blanshard site...

unless the city council almost gives away its downtown property, and this isn't thought likely.

And now, a few minor predictions:

The new fire hall will be built on the site of the old Yates Street hall. But there may be some delay while all funds set aside for the Point Ellice Bridge are gathered in. Until it is paid off, the funds for the fire hall are not a bird in the hand.

The federal department of transport has promised $108,000 approximately, but it isn't here yet. Until it comes, the province won't match it. And so far the city has only an oral commitment from the province.

Delays with the fire hall, likely will push the new garbage disposal system and wharf into 1959.

The roundabout will be a noisy issue again in 1958. Although council is now on record in support of a one-way street system to replace the fountain circle, there will be new attempts by Douglas Street merchants to wash out one-way streets.

Big argument will be that the new bridge, the new through-way on Bay Street, and the current direction plans at the roundabout, will make it less of a bottleneck.

The roundabout now has signs on each approach cautioning drivers to yield the right of way to cars already in the circle. This is a simple plan. Opponents to one-way streets will argue it is working 100 per cent.

There will be a move to dress up city hall, despite the argument it might be headed for demolition. But this year, Victoria will host HRH Princess Margaret, the prime minister of the Commonwealth, the prime minister of Canada, the premiers of the nine other provinces, the mayors of Canada, and other notables from around the world.

All of them may be expected to be received by the mayor at city hall. The paint-up, clean-up, decorate campaign should be well under way by April.

Plywood Mills Reopen Monday

525 Men Back to Work; Market Future Uncertain

B.C. Forest Products plywood plant will resume operations Monday, the company announced today.

About 325 men were idled when the plant shut down Dec. 23 for the usual Christmas holiday period, which was extended this year because of unfavorable market conditions.

The plant will start up with the first shift Monday, at 8 a.m.

A company spokesman said there had been no improvement in the market since the shut-down, and continuation of the operation "depended largely on a seasonal upswing."

The second plywood plant in the area, Sooke Lake Lumber

Company, also will start a two-shift operation Monday.

The company laid off one shift of 100 men on Nov. 22 and shut down completely at the start of Christmas week, putting another 100 men out of work temporarily.

"We feel optimistic that there will be enough business developing in the near future," manager Alex Hendry said.

Pulp Strike End Thought Doubtful

A union official in Vancouver today expressed doubts that British Columbia's pulp and paper strike will be settled quickly.

H. L. Hansen, international representative of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said talks with representatives of the seven strike-bound companies "may resume" Saturday.

"This hasn't been definitely decided," he added. "We are not optimistic about the outcome of any meeting."

Six thousand pulp workers have been holding out for a wage increase since Nov. 14. The base rate for the industry was $1.72 an hour and the average was about $2.30. The companies offered 7 1/2 per cent more. The union asked 12 1/2 per cent.

'Little Help' to B.C. In Access Road Offer

An offer made by the federal government today to share with the provinces the cost of building forest access roads this winter is not expected to be of much benefit to B.C.

Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton announced in Ottawa that Parliament will be asked to vote $1,000,000 at the current session to cover anticipated federal expenditures.

The plan should provide jobs

for between 1,000 and 2,000 men, he said.

B.C. Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said there appeared to be some "confusion" and he would have to get further clarification.

However, Mr. Williston said the situation in B.C. is different from other provinces.

Because this province is the only one with a sustained-yield forest program, our access roads have a two-fold purpose—to get the logs out and to aid in fire protection.

Earlier this year, B.C. signed a five-year agreement with the federal government to share costs of fire protection.

Mr. Williston said most of B.C.'s access roads are to public working circles in the Interior, where it would be impossible to carry out construction in the winter months.

Companies with forest management licences on the coast must build their own access roads.

Mr. Williston added that he didn't want "to throw cold water" on the federal proposal.

WELCOMED

"If this represents a new attitude on the part of the federal government to share in the cost of access roads, it will be welcomed," he said.

The minister said $1,000,000 spread over the 10 provinces would not mean much to this province, which spends close to $4,000,000 annually on forest access projects.

Renewed Request For Public Works

Victoria Labor Council has renewed its request to the federal works department for projects which would reduce current unemployment in Victoria area.

"The government has failed to realize the seriousness of the situation," says a letter mailed today to Public Works Minister Howard Green.

Current federal works in this area are "... inadequate, inasmuch as the majority of the projects would have been carried forward in any case..."

The work involved is too little to alleviate the problem, the letter stated.

MONTE ROBERTS

The usual practice of this column, on its first appearance in the New Year, is to open with a cheery greeting, such as:

"You have had 57. Do you wish to try for 58?"

But on this, the first printing of 1958, we do not feel up to a cheery greeting.

We are trying to decide between two openings, the rather pessimistic:

"You have had three. Do you wish to bother trying for the other 367?"

Or the possibly less gloomy cliché:

"After all, the first 100 years are the hardest."

The reason for this column's attitude is, it takes a dim view of 1958.

This column even refuses to make its usual fearless forecasts for the year ahead.

Because the year ahead, in the opinion of this column, holds nothing to which to look forward to. To whom.

It is not that this column fears Russian domination of outer space. Or inner space.

It is not that this column feels the United States might teeter over from the brink of war and fall over the brink of exhaustion.

It is not that this column views with alarm the possibility of a schism between the Middle East and the Middle West. Or even of a Chisholm between Brock and Santa.

It is not that this column considers it possible the cold war will get hot in the Arctic, thus leaving Canada exposed to invasion without thermostatic control.

Even the possibility of guided missiles, and the probability of misguided missiles, does not alarm this column unduly.

But, as we edge cautiously into the year 1958, we are faced with an indubitable indubitability.

The year nineteen hundred and fifty eight is the year in which the forces of evil, disguising themselves under the cloak of progress, are going to:

BLOW UP RIPPLE ROCK

Ah, the tragedy of it all! In this, our Centennial Year, to destroy one of the great features of this vast province.

Ah, the irony of it all! To preach conservation of our natural resources, and then blow up Ripple Rock—a natural resource if ever there was one.

But perhaps it is not too late for one more impassioned plea.

Put away your dynamite, boys.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Members of Victoria Rotary Club took their sons and daughters with them to Thursday's luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel. A special Christmas entertainment was arranged.

Robert R. McDermott, 67, of 393 Island Highway, is in fairly good condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital after collapsing at the wheel of his truck Thursday night.

The truck was being towed by a car driven by James O. Streton, 415 Island Highway, along the Old Island Highway near Six-Mile House when Mr. McDermott slumped over the wheel. He was taken to hospital by Langford ambulance.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Could you please tell me the dates of the launching and wrecking of the British sloop Algerine based at Esquimalt in 1914?—W.B.

A.—She was launched at Devonport in 1895 and commissioned in 1897. She was recommissioned for the last time at Esquimalt in 1913. She was the depot ship for Esquimalt through the First World War, and in 1915 was sold to the Pacific Salvage Company. In 1923 her career came to an end, for on Oct. 13, at 5:30 p.m., she went ashore on Brodie Rock in Principe Channel inside Banks Island. It was decided to sell her for junk, and this was carried out early in 1924.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times," Editor, Esquimalt, and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of local interest and be general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve problems.

Drivers will be asked to make fuller use of the new Point Ellice Bridge.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today he will ask erection of a sign at Esquimalt Road and Catherine Street directing northern Victoria, and Saanich cars eastbound, to use Point Ellice route.

It is quicker and more direct than the Johnson Street span. The mayor felt the closure of Point Ellice for five months this year for reconstruction created a driving habit which adds to the rush hour jam on Johnson.

Only 62 Victorians have registered with centennial program planners as "pioneers" and officials are seeking more names. "Pioneers" include those born or resident in B.C. prior to July 4, 1886. Special entertainment is planned for the old timers and scrolls will record their names. Registration may be made at Suite 101, Yarrow Building; the downtown office of Victoria Press, 1215 Broad; or at the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company.

B.C. area commander Brig. J. W. Bishop will inspect the First Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, at Work Point Barracks at 9 a.m. next Monday, at the battalion's first formal parade since arriving here from duty in Germany.

All of the battalion's 800 men will be on hand following leave.

Gen. Peakes will be in Vancouver on Thursday and leave the next day for the Royal Canadian School of Military Engineering at Chilliwack.

He leaves by RCAF the next day for Calgary.

Gen. Peakes, who spent a few days' holiday at his home here over the New Year, has now returned to Ottawa and resumption of parliament.

THEY'RE DISTURBIN' THE TURBAN

Sikhs Unwinding Headgear

By TONY DICKASON

Wearing of turbans by Sikh men in British Columbia appears to be on the way out.

Nearly all the sect adherents are unwinding their headgear and going modern.

A spokesman for the East Indian community in Greater Victoria, Kuldeep Bains, himself a Sikh, wears a hat and says most of his contemporaries are getting haircuts, and "going along with the times."

Wearing of the turban, along with leaving the hair uncut and growing of beards, was started around 1700 A.D. by religious leader Govind Singh as part of admittance rites into the militant order.

GOOD FIGHTERS

Sikhs, a sect of dissenters from Brahmanical Hinduism, have long been known as fighters, and good ones.

In religious wars of the past, if the Sikhs wore beards and had long hair, it saved them slaughtering one another in the heat of battle. Compatriots were readily identified.

Turbans called "pugri" are common in India, but the beard is the trademark of the Sikh.

Mr. Bains hazarded the guess that if Govind Singh was around today he'd suggest his adherents visit a barber and buy a hat.

TWO FEET

The "kes" or unshorn hair can grow to a length of two feet. It is worn in a top-knot under the turban.

The turban itself, from three to five yards long, and from two to three feet wide, can be made of cotton, linen, silk or any other suitable material.

"They aren't hot, even over the hair," said one turbaned millworker. "In fact, they keep the heat off."

He admitted, though, that in this climate of considerable rain, one can get sadly soggy from the eyebrows up wearing the headgear.

INDOORS TOO

Turbans are worn indoors as well as out, and are removed only for bed or bath. They aren't always re-wound each time they're put on, though some turban purists prefer to do this—like persons who insist on hand-tieing their bow ties.

There are fashions in turbans—methods of winding and color. These fashions are set in the Patila State in northern India, home of the Sikhs. Some of the college boys become quite foppish in turban colors and arrangements.

Most Sikhs have several of the head shrouds, in different colors. While there is no actual significance in the colors, it would still be inappropriate to wear a black turban to a wedding.

Black is generally reserved for funerals; bridegrooms try to don yellow turbans.

They are less expensive to clean than hats—just wash and iron.

There are about 3,000 Sikhs in British Columbia, 1,000 on Vancouver Island and about 200 in Greater Victoria.

This presents a fair challenge to hat manufacturers.

Beer Parlor's Missing Cash Called Stolen

Sack containing $12,000 in cheques and cash missing from Tudor Holdings Ltd. since Dec. 21 "must now be considered as stolen," Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe said today.

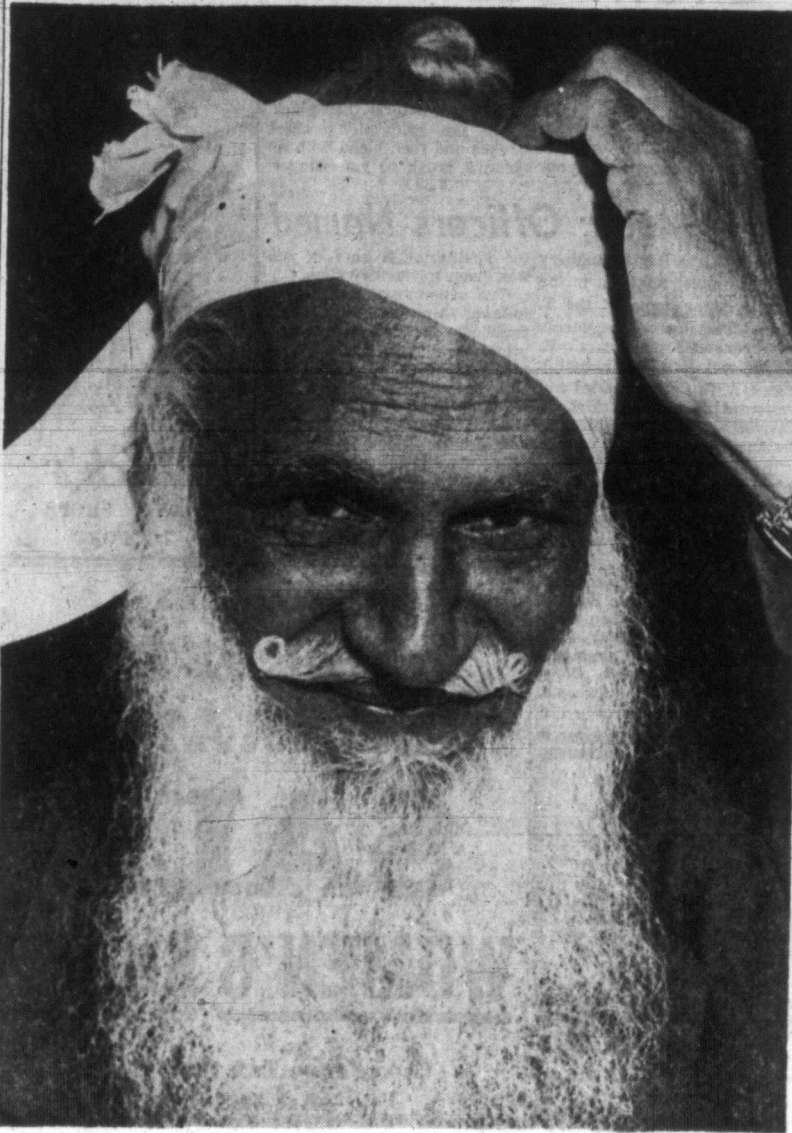

"It was first considered to be misplaced... and it might even be mislaid at this time," the chief said, "but it would appear now that there is very little chance of that."

The sack contained $4,500 in cash in denominations of $20s, $10s, $5s and $1s, the chief said, and the $7,500 in payroll cheques made out to employees of HMC Dockyard, Yarrow, Pollard Construction and B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

All are thought to have been stamped on the back "The Tudor Holdings Ltd."

Chief Stancombe said the Greater Victoria area "has been thoroughly covered and no attempt has been made to cash these cheques."

The sack of money and cheques was taken from a safe in the office of the beer parlor sometime between 10 p.m. and midnight, he estimated.

'Future of UBC In Our Hands', Says Chancellor

Fund Campaign Dinner Tonight

Victoria's drive to raise funds for the overcrowded University of British Columbia goes into high gear tonight with a keynote address by Dr. A. E. Grauer, chancellor of UBC and president of the B.C. Power Corporation.

"We shall need all the support we can get from Victoria's public-spirited citizens," said the tall, distinguished chancellor.

He emphasized that the crowded university, with 8,700 students now and an expected 15,000 by 1965, faces a grim future unless building funds can be raised, with continued use of dilapidated huts for lecture rooms and a desperate shortage of living space for students.

"The future of UBC is in our hands," Dr. Grauer said.

A new color movie depicting the university campus will have its first showing at the dinner.

The UBC fund has already reached the $3,000,000 mark in its drive to raise $7,500,000 toward urgently-needed buildings and facilities.

There are about 3,000 Sikhs in British Columbia, 1,000 on Vancouver Island and about 200 in Greater Victoria.

This presents a fair challenge to hat manufacturers.

Times publisher Stuart Keate, as Victoria chairman of the fund, will preside and guests will include B.C. Education Minister Leslie R. Peterson, Mayor Percy Scurrell, Dr. Harry Hickman, principal of Victoria College, and Aubrey Roberts, assistant to the president of UBC.

A union official in Vancouver today expressed doubts that British Columbia's pulp and paper strike will be settled quickly.

H. L. Hansen, international representative of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said talks with representatives of the seven strike-bound companies "may resume" Saturday.

"This hasn't been definitely decided," he added. "We are not optimistic about the outcome of any meeting."

Six thousand pulp workers have been holding out for a wage increase since Nov. 14. The base rate for the industry was $1.72 an hour and the average was about $2.30. The companies offered 7 1/2 per cent more. The union asked 12 1/2 per cent.

'Little Help' to B.C. In Access Road Offer

An offer made by the federal government today to share with the provinces the cost of building forest access roads this winter is not expected to be of much benefit to B.C.

Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton announced in Ottawa that Parliament will be asked to vote $1,000,000 at the current session to cover anticipated federal expenditures.

The plan should provide jobs

for between 1,000 and 2,000 men, he said.

B.C. Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said there appeared to be some "confusion" and he would have to get further clarification.

However, Mr. Williston said the situation in B.C. is different from other provinces.

Because this province is the only one with a sustained-yield forest program, our access roads have a two-fold purpose—to get the logs out and to aid in fire protection.

Earlier this year, B.C. signed a five-year agreement with the federal government to share costs of fire protection.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Is Your Skirt Too Tight? Go on a Diet With Penny

By PENNY SAVER

Pull yourself in! You can't? There comes a time in our lives (especially after this holiday season) when skirts and trousers are extremely difficult to get into and to button! You've been nibbling on tidbits for over two weeks, and now . . . well, aren't you ashamed?

It's probably fortunate too, that you can't look another mince pie or chocolate in the eye, 'cause it would surely be the death of you and of that figure you kept so trim during 1957!

Come now, take hold of your will power! Spare a week off from your gluttony and . . . well, just pull yourself in!

LOUISE DAVIS

Tips for Anniversary Party:

We are old-fashioned people who never entertain, but we have many friends in our city where we have always lived. Our golden wedding is coming up in a few months and we want to give an open house. I don't know where to begin or what to serve. Are there caterers who will supply all the refreshments and do they have people to serve them? How about equipment such as glasses and china?

Louise Davis Answers: You will find caterers listed in your classified telephone directory. Select one that has complete equipment and be sure to check the available items such as punch bowl, ladle, punch cups, china, coffee server, trays, napkins, etc. If you wish to have the caterer's employees prepare and serve the refreshments, give the approximate number of guests you expect so that your party will be adequately staffed. A catered party, such as yours, is well worth it and, furthermore, you and your family will be relieved of the responsibilities. I presume your party will be in the afternoon, so I suggest that you serve punch, coffee, canapés, dainty sandwiches, salted nuts and petit fours. Perhaps you would like to order a decorated anniversary cake inscribed with the years, 1908-1958, also your names or initials. Best wishes to you both on your golden wedding day.

Here's the plan! Starting tomorrow morning, make it a resolution in your mind to cut out everything . . . but everything! Sounds drastic! Well, what I really mean is cut down on those gooey chocolates that are the end for any lithe figure!

Instead of drinking coffee or tea with heavy thick cream, pour skim milk in the cup . . . believe me it tastes almost as good! Ask your milkman to leave a quart or two of skimmed milk at your doorstep . . . it only costs 21 cents in the new waxed cardboard cartons.

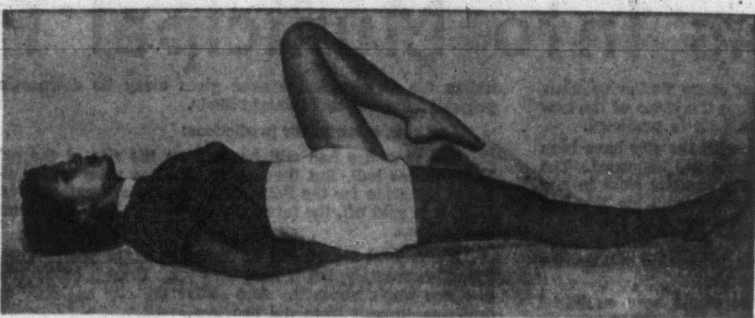

Low fat milk is another unfatting beverage, and it's priced at 24 cents. Remember, it has a low fat content . . . two and a half per cent fat!

Beating the battle of the bulge is harder than you think, but the new diet aids such as sugarless cookies of a very low calorie content can certainly help! It would be possible to eat three or four of these sugarless cookies and never gain a pound 'cause they're stuffed with fruit . . . raisins, figs, dates and apricots. Good, and good for you, at 45 cents a pound.

You don't have to cut out dessert on a diet either! Oh no! Cans of peaches, apricots and pineapple are selling now with absolutely no sugar content! Cans come at 35 cents.

Breakfast cereal is fattening! You may not have known it before this time, but cereal adds pounds to your figure. There is an exception to the rule and this is the uncooked rice puff cereal that one can eat cold or hot. Packages of this wonderful meal start at 25 cents.

Diet with me! Give me a call at 2-3131 for items in this column.

You will notice a satisfactory difference in your figure after only four weeks of exercise. Even after two weeks, many women notice an improvement.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q.—"If I take figure molding exercises, how long will it be before I get results? If I do exercises every day for 20 to 30 minutes, is that long enough—and how long will it take to notice a difference?"

A.—This depends partly on the individual. It also depends on the measurement you are attempting to slim. For instance the waistline responds most readily to exercise reducing. The abdomen is also most susceptible. It takes longer for the hips and thighs. However, I can assure you, from much experience with my classes, that you will notice a satisfactory difference after four weeks of regular exercises. Even after two weeks, many women find themselves a couple of inches slimmer through the waist and abdomen and have lost perhaps an inch from the hipline.

Q.—"I never had eyebrows, that is unless you can call this very fine and sparse hair over my eyes, brows, I am only 22 and have just tried to forget it until now. I am very interested in a young man and want to look as attractive as possible. What can I do to have thicker brows?"

A.—There is nothing you can do. This is just an inherited characteristic. However, you can make your brows look thicker by using an eyebrow pencil. No matter what your coloring, use a brown pencil. Even when your brows are dark, a dark brown pencil looks much more natural than black. Apply this with light, short strokes and then blend with an eyebrow brush or your finger.

Gifts Made; Officers Named

The Victoria Lions Auxiliary held its annual luncheon in the private dining room of the T. Eaton Company. Arrangements were convened by Mrs. C. R. Savage and Mrs. F. Grossmith. Mrs. A. R. Cann presided and welcomed as a guest, Mrs. L. Keyworth, a former member of the auxiliary.

Through the Silver Threads Handicraft Club the auxiliary donated $125 to purchase a hearing aid for a needy person and a letter of thanks was read from the recipient.

A donation of $100 was made to the Senior Citizens Society; $25 to CKDA Good Samaritan project; $25 to Goodwill Enterprises; $25 to the Community Chest and $25 to the Gorge Road Hospital for the upkeep of a room previously furnished by the auxiliary. A sum of $50 was given to the $500 Club.

New officers were named as follows: Mrs. H. R. Paulin, president; Mrs. M. Sagel, vice-president; Mrs. Cann, past president; Mrs. O. Elliott, recording secretary; Mrs. D. Ewing, corresponding; Mrs. G. Hinch, treasurer; Mrs. Savage and Mrs. L. Cullimore, two-year directors; Mrs. M. J. Sharp and Mrs. F. Grossmith, one-year directors.

Nominations chairman, Mrs. J. Roberts conducted the election.

Palm Springs Vacation

Hon. Charles Banks, a former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, and Mrs. Banks have been spending the holiday season at The Oasis, Palm Springs, Calif.

Receives Names

The eight-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan W. Moore, of Vancouver, B.C., received the names Allan Thomas Gilbert at a christening ceremony, Tuesday, in St. Columba Anglican Church, Victoria, with Rev. J. Rogers officiating. Present with the baby's parents were his godparents, Miss Deanna Moore, and Mr. Thomas Moore, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moore, Victoria. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. Tennant, Winnipeg, Man. The young parents and their son have spent the holiday season with Mr. Moore's parents in Victoria.

For Gwen Leaver

Bride-elect, Miss Gwen Leaver, whose marriage to Mr. Robert David James Gilmour takes place Saturday evening in St. John's Anglican Church, has been guest of honor at many bridal showers recently.

Mrs. F. Souka was hostess at her Dupplin Road home for Miss Leaver, with Mrs. J. Gilmour acting as co-hostess. There were 17 guests.

Another pre-nuptial party was held at the home of Miss Dell Martin, 2440 Dalhousie Street. There were eight guests.

Mrs. R. Lott was also a hostess at a party honoring Miss Leaver. Twenty guests attended the shower at Mrs. Lott's home, 1526 Vining Street. A corsage of white carnations was presented to Miss Leaver, while her mother, Mrs. J. H. Leaver, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. C. Gordon, received corsages of yellow and pink carnations, respectively.

Staff of Little and Taylor held a banquet breakfast at the Douglas Hotel to honor co-worker, Miss Leaver, whom they presented with an engraved silver tray.

At Tennis Club

Guests at the New Year's Eve Frolic in the lounge of Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Neville Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vik, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Thate, Mr. and Mrs. George Rendall, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Heal, Misses Donna Kerr, Diana Parsons, Maureen Bray, Maria Preyde, Joan Parib, Sheila James, Carole Jones, Gladys Tremblay, Dayle Heal, Ann Bartholomew, Sharon Stilwell, Mr. Len Tolson, Mr. Eric Hiberson, Mr. Gerry Foard, Mr. John Davis, Mr. Gordon Elder, Mr. Barry Sinclair, Mr. Bob Carmichael, Mr. Ron Simmons and Mr. Frank Berry.

Enjoying Ski Trip

Prior to returning to school and university, a party of young people left Thursday morning on a skiing trip to Forbidden Plateau. Among those who travelled to the plateau for a few days are the Misses Alix Husband, Gillian Edgell, Elissa Stenner, Vicky Husband, Lisa Husband, Deedee Plomer and Mr. Desmond Fitzgerald, Mr. Ian Hunter and Venture Cadets Thor Young and John Leehman. The group will return tomorrow evening.

Travelling South

Mr. and Mrs. F. Haupt and their 11-year-old daughter, Irene, are leaving this weekend by car for a seven-week visit in the United States. Mr. Haupt will appear on television in Portland to demonstrate some Swiss cooking before heading south to Palm Springs and Florida.

Lethbridge Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beacon had Judge L. S. Turcotte and Mrs. Turcotte of Lethbridge as house guests over the holiday season at their home on Harriet Road. The Turcottes have now returned to Alberta.

Visits Parents

Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel Morgan and their five children have been in the city over the holiday season from Washington, D.C., the guests of Mr. Morgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan, at their home on Pemberton Road.

Also a guest is Mrs. Morgan's cousin, Mrs. Frances Monaghan, Spokane, who expects to be in Victoria for several months.

Named among the world's best dressed women for the first time is Queen Elizabeth, whose dressmaker, Norman Hartnell, outfitted her so stylishly for her visit to Canada. Mrs. William Paley, second from left, again won top honors in the fashion race, and Audrey Hepburn, second from right, was among the younger women on the list. Duchess of Windsor, right, wins perennial honors, this year tying for second place with young Mrs. Winston Guest, wife of the noted sportsman.

Newcomers, Perennial Fashion Firsts Combined On This Year's List of World's Best-Dressed

A race between younger women of elegance and the established leaders of world fashion, new arrivals and dramatic revivals in the top ranks, contributed excitement to the annual list of the world's best-dressed women, announced today by the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute. The list, compiled by the Dress Institute from written ballots distributed to 2,000 international fashion experts, fashion editors, socialites and other celebrities, gives current honors for "distinguished taste in dress without ostentation or extravagance" to Mrs. William Paley (New York); the Duchess of Windsor (Paris and New York); and Mrs. Winston Guest (New York and Palm Beach) (tied for second place); Countess Consuelo Crespi (Rome); Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain; Audrey Hepburn (Hollywood); Mrs. Henry Ford II (Grosse Pointe, Mich., and New York); Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes (Paris); Claudette Colbert (Hollywood); and Mrs. William R. Hearst, Jr. (tied for eighth place); the Countess of Quintanilla (Madrid); Countess Mona von Bismarck (former Mrs. Harrison Williams, New York, Paris and Capri); Mrs. Norman K. Winston (New York and Paris); Mrs. Thomas Bancroft, Jr. (New York and Greenwich, Conn.).

In spite of the perennial honors paid to the Duchess of Windsor and Mrs. William Paley, this year's poll showed that very young women have

Irene Bosustow

Here With Son

A reunion and a celebration followed the arrival of Mrs. S. H. (Irene) Bosustow in Victoria yesterday morning with her famous son, Steve, creator of the well-known cartoon characters Mr. Magoo and Gerald McBoing Boing.

They came from Vancouver where Mr. Bosustow took part in the TV program which opened B.C.'s centennial year to visit Mrs. Bosustow's sister, Mrs. C. Bosustow, 914 Hillside Avenue, who celebrated an 84th birthday yesterday.

Mother and son left again this morning for California.

The sisters, both born in Victoria, are descendants of pioneers. Their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James U're came around The Horn in a sailing ship to settle here.

When they grew up the two girls married brothers. One continued to live in Victoria and the other eventually went with her husband and three small children to California to make a new home.

She has lived there ever since. Bright-eyed and smiling Irene Bosustow spent a happy day with her sister, her nieces and their children.

She expects to return again before too long.

erased the time-honored fashion cliché that "no woman can be well-dressed until she is past 35." Flaxen-haired Mrs. Guest, wife of the noted sportsman, and the former Lucy Cochran of Boston, is under 30, as are film star Audrey Hepburn, Mrs. Henry Ford II, American-born Countess Crespi, piquant and brunette Vicomtesse de Ribes and blonde Mrs. Thomas Bancroft, Jr.

Princess Grace of Monaco, who both as Grace Kelly of the films and as the bride of Prince Rainier III ranked high on previous lists, was missing this year.

Joan Crawford, Dinah Shore, Mrs. Gary Cooper, British ballerina Margot Fonteyn, Kay Kendall (Mrs. Rex Harrison), Dorothy Kilgallen, Merle Oberon, Elizabeth Taylor Todd and Loretta Young were among the entertainment world figures cited prominently in the balloting.

QUEEN APPEARS

Elizabeth II, at 32, appears on the best-dressed list for the first time, while her sister Margaret Rose's name does not appear.

Claudette Colbert and Countess Mona von Bismarck returned to the list this year after several years' absence. When she was Mrs. Harrison Williams, Countess Bismarck was a fixture in the best-dressed ranks, appearing at or near the top of the list every year from 1933 until she went into semi-retirement in Europe. Since the death of her utilities-magnate husband and her subsequent marriage to Count Edward von Bismarck, she has returned to society in Paris and recently revisited New York.

Miss Colbert, now a hit on television as well as on the screen, has edged out such

PHILIP GETS CREDIT

LONDON (UP)—British fashion experts Thursday gave Prince Philip credit for the improved fashion taste that put Queen Elizabeth II on the list of the world's 12 best-dressed women.

They said that it was not until her wedding in 1947 that Elizabeth became fashion-conscious. As a princess, she favored dowdy, rather shapeless hats that resembled a flying saucer on the back of her head. But after her marriage to Philip, Elizabeth's clothes sense began to gradually undergo a change. She switched from pastel colors traditionally worn by royalty to more striking clothes in deep greens and blues.

Victoria Musician Wed In Ottawa Ceremony

Candles illuminated St. John's Anglican Church in Ottawa on Dec. 24 when Wendy Elizabeth Howard Leicester exchanged marriage vows with Lawrence William Larinde.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Howard Leicester of Canterbury, Kent, England, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Larinde of Victoria.

Rev. William Robinson performed the afternoon ceremony. Given in marriage by Noel Kerr, the bride was attended by Mrs. Kerr as matron of honor.

For her wedding, the bride chose a sheath frock in a honey-beige shade of peau de soie. The bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and short sleeves, and she wore long beige gloves. Her dress was complemented by a velvet Alice band hat in honey beige, with a small veil, and black satin accessories. She carried a nosegay bouquet.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gibb. The couple left afterwards for a honeymoon trip to Montreal and New Orleans, where they will live.

To travel, the bride donned an imported Italian model gown of silk in a deep burgundy shade, cut on princess lines.

Invite Friend for Centennial Fun

A drive to encourage Vancouver Islanders to write to friends and relatives, inviting them here during centennial year, is being initiated by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

"Now is the time for all Islanders to write to relatives and friends everywhere telling them of our centennial attractions," said commissioner George Warren.

"The Centennial Committee has done their share of laying the foundations—now it is up to the public to cast the net still wider."

The publicity bureau offers centennial leaflets, including the illustrated invitation signed by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Premier Bennett, to any who wish to enclose them with personal letters.

"They are welcome to call here or send in requests for centennial literature," Mr. Warren said.

NEW FLOWERCRAFT COURSE

Artificial Blooms Almost Fool Bees

They're making artificial flowers so lifelike these days, you can almost fool the bees.

And they've got pussy willows that almost purr.

Despite the high fidelity production, it's an art almost anyone can quickly master and a new evening class sponsored by Greater Victoria school board next week is aimed at proving it.

Instructor, Roland H. Miles, who previously taught summer classes in arts and crafts with community programs, branch, department of education, uses plastics and woodfibres.

PLASTIC FOAMS

The flowercraft course will include use of chemilite and plastic foams and culminating the course is instruction in basket-weaving. The course will last 10 weeks, one night each week, and costs $6 per person. Materials cost about $1 a night above that. Classes meet at Central Junior High School, with the first session at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 8.

There is room now for 15 students.

The course is planned so that those who register will have a finished corsage, spray, bouquet or basket to take home each night.

LOCAL BRIEFS

First fires of the New Year came early Wednesday for members of Victoria fire department.

They answered a call to 1817 Quadra at 3:33 a.m. to extinguish a mattress fire, which caused little damage. Twenty-two minutes later they went to 304 Bay to put out burning ignition wires and oil on a bulldozer owned by Len Jones. Damage was light.

Royal Canadian Air Force New Year's promotion list includes the name of a Victoria RCAF auxiliary member, F/L M. B. McLean, promoted from flying officer with 2455 Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron.

A member of the local squadron since July, 1954, F/L McLean served from 1941-43 as a radar technician with night fighter squadrons in Great Britain.

Before the end of the Second World War he remustered as aircrew and received his pilot's wings.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Mary Kathleen Moore, age seven, of Leon, Iowa, for her question:

"Was the whole earth covered with the Ice Age glaciers?"

There have been several Ice Ages during the long history of the earth. Each time a large area of the world was buried under massive glaciers. The glaciers of one such Ice Age covered an area of 12 million square miles. This is about one-seventeenth of the earth's surface, or over a quarter of the land area. No Ice Age, it seems, was severe enough to cover all the earth with glaciers.

Ice Age glaciers were two to three miles thick. This mass of ice pressed down the level of the continents. Fingers of glassy ice clawed the rocks, tore loose boulders and soil, scraped the tops of peaked mountains and gouged great valleys in the ground. These are the records that tell us the stories of past Ice Ages. The massive glaciers changed the face of the earth wherever they touched.

The earliest records tell of an Ice Age that happened some 500 million years ago. Some 200 million years ago, the tropics were in the grip of an Ice Age. The icy glaciers left their tell-tale marks in India, Africa, Australia and South America.

The last Ice Age happened within the past million years. It came and went in four phases. We now live in a warm period following the last of these phases.

The glaciers of the last Ice Age covered all of Canada. They crept south across what is now the United States border and dipped far south in the region of the Great Lakes. They covered Greenland, northern Europe and Siberia. In America, the glaciers of the first phase reached Nebraska. In the second phase they reached down as far as Kansas. The third phase reached Illinois and the fourth phase reached Wisconsin.

Each time the glaciers advanced and retreated. There was a warmer period between each icy period.

Let's imagine what North America was like when the Ice Age was at its worst. Canada, the northern edge of the United States and a vast area around the Great Lakes was under massive sheets of solid ice.

Nothing grew or lived there. Animals and men had moved south as the glaciers advanced. Plant life was crushed and frozen.

The edge of the glacier was a high wall, a steep cliff of solid ice. Ahead of the glacier, the trees had perished with cold. The ground bore mosses, lichens and a few scrubby bushes. Snow could be expected any day of the year. For summer was never warm enough to melt ice and snow.

Yet, in this dismal world, mankind managed to live and look after his family. He hunted game right up to the very brink of the glaciers. We know, because we have found his arrowheads buried in the bones of Ice Age animals. Nor did this brave ancestor of ours settle for small game. He hunted the giant mammoth, and left his arrowheads behind to prove it.

As the ice retreated during a warm period, plants sprang up in the marshy ground. The game returned northwards, and so did mankind. Somehow, our distant ancestors survived through the long, bitter Ice Ages. Had the ice covered the whole earth at one time, all plant and animal life would have perished along with mankind.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Christie Riddle, age eight, of Houston, Texas, for the question:

"Are there any fairies left?"

Some people say there are fairies. Some say there are not. Certain hard-headed people say that there never were any fairies at all. Andy has his own ideas on the subject. You may or may not agree with him.

He says that he would feel very sad if somebody proved there were no Little People. He prefers to believe they exist because he enjoys the idea. He even has an idea of how to find and even touch one.

This is what to remember when fairy hunting. Fairies were small and they could do magic things that people could not do. Have you a small dog who can smell out hidden bones? Have you a small cat who can see in the dark? Or a soft small rabbit, or any other small, wonderful pet? These little darlings certainly answer the description of a fairy.

Andy's idea is that these charming little pets might really be fairies. You may agree or disagree. But no one can prove that the fairies did not turn into the small animals who love us so much. Let's be kind, especially kind to them—just in case.

Police Chief Receives $44,500

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police Chief William Parker has settled out of court for $44,500 his $2,000,000 damage suit for remarks on television by ex-gambler Mickey Cohen.

Cohen, however, remains a defendant. He didn't contribute to the settlement and is not a party to the agreement. Cohen has filed a suit of his own against Parker, charging the chief has violated his civil rights.

The settlement is with the American Broadcasting Company, television interviewer Mike Wallace and his sponsors. It was on the May 19 Wallace show that Cohen made remarks that Parker deemed libelous, slanderous and damaging to his character.

A settlement was made, too, with Capt. James Hamilton of the intelligence squad, to whom Cohen also referred. He gets $22,500. He had asked $1,000,000.

CALLAS WALKS OUT Temperamental Star Rocks Rome's Opera

By STAN CARTER
ROME (AP)—The opera world's stormiest prima donna, soprano Maria Meneghini Callas, fled in tears through an underground passage early today as 1,000 irate music fans jeered her for quitting midway through the opening night of the Rome Opera.

The glittering first night was ruined when the fiery New York-born star said she had lost her voice and could not continue after the first act of Bellini's "Norma." It was the first time in the Rome Opera's history that a performance was not completed.

Riot police stood by as demonstrators gathered outside the Teatro dell'Opera after the management called off the rest of the performance. Miss Callas avoided the crowd by escaping through an underground passage to her hotel nearby.

The 34-year-old singer sat wearily in her hotel apartment later and sobbed that she had been ill for days and could not possibly have completed the opera.

Today an Italian deputy, Socialist Luigi Sansone, formally asked Premier Adone Zoli what action the government planned against the opera house for allowing such "an unbecoming incident."

There was no immediate government reply but all the ingredients were present for a crisis of some stature. Italians take their opera seriously and Parliament could even close the opera house.

Inside, for two hours, the soprano lay crying in her dressing room. Her friend, American party giver, Elsa Maxwell, comforted her, and a doctor gave her sedatives. Finally she was helped to her hotel.

Foxhounds Kill Cat; SPCA Hostile

CALNE, England (AP)—A pack of foxhounds was in full cry Thursday—and so was the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The hunt, organized by the Duke of Beaufort, taily-hoed into the neighboring town of Hillmarston.

At this point the fox got away. The hounds reorganized, spotted a black and white cat and altered course.

They caught the cat and killed it.

The society is getting a report on the whole proceedings from enraged residents of Hillmarston.

DUNCAN MAN MISSING; FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED

A Duncan man has been missing from his home since Tuesday, and the finding of bloodstains in his home on Allenby Road has led RCMP in the Up-Island city to suspect foul play.

Bill Parr, about 60, a part-time waiter at the Trouhalem Hotel in Duncan, failed to report to work Tuesday. One of the hotel staff went to his home, half of a duplex on Allenby Road, noted Parr was missing, and eventually notified police.

Parr was understood to have lived alone. Allenby Road, where his home is located, is a part of the Old Island Highway.

Khrushchev Asks 'Angel Of Peace'

MOSCOW (AP)—Every newspaper in Moscow today took up the Soviet cry for a meeting between Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev in a new year's toast said such a meeting could solve most of the world's problems.

The Moscow papers printed assortments of reports from New York, London and elsewhere under identical headlines saying "people of the world favor meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev."

Khrushchev made what almost added up to a prayer for peace in his toast of friendship to the "wonderful American people" at a new year's reception in Moscow Thursday night.

TOAST PROPOSED

His toast as reported by Moscow radio:

"I propose a toast for America, for the wonderful American people, for President Eisenhower, a toast to have America and the U.S.S.R. reach agreement on abolishing the cold war, to have the angel of peace over us and not the demon of war."

Population Jumps

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population increased at a record rate in the first 11 months of 1957, rising 516,000 to an estimated 16,860,000 at Dec. 1, the bureau of statistics said today.

An extensive shower of meteors now is running into the atmosphere, and he expected that Sputnik I would be seen as just another fairly bright meteor as it burned up on its plunge to the earth.

Top Polish Scientist Given Asylum by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Rogers today announced the defection to the West of Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, internationally known Polish scientist.

The attorney-general said in an address at a National Press Club luncheon that Dr. Nowinski, a specialist in thermoelectricity, was granted asylum in the United States Thursday.

Similar asylum will be granted to his wife, Maria Franczka, and their daughter, Kristina, seven, both of whom are now in England, Rogers said.

Nowinski, 32, has for the last seven years been a professor at the University of Warsaw.

His specialty is a field of mathematical theory involving the stresses on metals and other materials under varying temperatures.

Knowledge in that field is particularly valuable in dealing with the problems of air friction heat encountered in jet aviation, rocketry, and in handling the extreme temperatures of nuclear reactions.

Dr. Nowinski was described as being more familiar with Russian work in this field than most U.S. scientists.

He has published more than 60 articles on the subject.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP)—Mount Everest conqueror Sir Edmund Hillary won a double race to the South Pole tonight.

The New Zealander beat a rival British team and he did it with less than 20 miles' supply of fuel remaining.

Hillary and four other New Zealanders thus became the first men to reach the pole overland since Britain's Robert F. Scott in 1912.

But it was a close call. They had only one drum of gasoline left aboard their snow-cat tractor after a 24-hour forced march that covered 70 miles. It was good for barely 20 miles further travel.

And the five were so tired that the instant their sextant reading indicated the Pole, they camped on the spot.

They spurned the comfort of the relatively luxurious American polar base two miles away and bedded down as soon as they had radioed their success.

"Steering by the sun from earlier fixes we came bang on base," Hillary radioed to New Zealand's Scott base at McMurdo Sound.

"We are all very tired but well and very pleased to have arrived."

As for the fuel supply—"it was sufficient for 20 miles, so we were cutting it very fine." He had ordered the rest of their fuel jettisoned to speed the expedition's trek over piled-up ice and snow.

It was a desperate gamble but it worked. The New Zealanders' rivals, Briton Vivian Fuchs and a dozen men, were 200 miles on the other side of the Pole.

The Hillary team reached the geographic bottom of the globe at 8 p.m. New Zealand time (midnight PST). In the Antarctic midnight sun the American base, where warmth and food awaited, was a dark blob on the snowy horizon. Saturday Hillary will trek the remaining two miles to a hero's welcome.

Canada to Protest U.S. Curb on Oil

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming said today the Canadian government will send a note to the United States government protesting the recent presidential order restricting imports of crude oil in the Pacific coast area.

He made the statement in the Commons after Opposition Leader St. Laurent and CCF leader Coldwell asked whether there had been any exchange of notes on the matter.

Mr. Coldwell said he felt the "voluntary" import restrictions ordered by President Eisenhower Dec. 24 were a violation of declarations of economic co-operation made following the NATO summit meeting in Paris. He suggested the Canadian government send a strong note of protest to Washington.

Mr. Fleming said the U.S. restrictions on Canadian oil imports make no sense.

CALLED AN OFFENCE

Not only that, but they were an offence against the tenor and principles of Canada-U.S. defence co-operation laid down in an exchange of notes between the two governments Oct. 26, 1950, in the first year of the Korean War.

Mr. Fleming said the restrictions are in ill accord with the communiqué issued after the

Local Building Values Up 5%

Victoria and Esquimalt Down But Oak Bay and Saanich Jump

Greater Victoria building values increased 5 per cent last year over 1956.

Total construction costs reported by Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt in 1957 is $18,454,743.

This compares with $17,522,393 in 1956 and $18,592,150 in 1955.

Saanich continued to show the fastest rate of expansion of residential areas, with 491 new homes.

Totals indicated a reduced tempo in home building however. In 1956, Saanich built 555 new homes and 754 new dwellings were built in 1955.

No accurate comparison of building values between the two leading municipalities, Victorial and Esquimalt, is possible. Saanich this year increased its basis of estimate for new home costs to $10 per square foot. Victoria still uses an $8 per square foot basis wherever completed contract prices are in doubt.

Other highlights of the building roundup showed Victoria totals for the year decreased almost 12 per cent. Oak Bay jumped 20 per cent and Esquimalt dropped more than 50 per cent.

City Total Lowest Since 1952

Here is the breakdown by municipalities:

Victoria in 1957 issued 7,259 permits valued at $6,884,608. It was the lowest building total in the city since 1952. Officials felt this was due in part to the recent trend in new school construction. Most new schools are now being built outside the city boundaries.

Also, much new construction by the provincial government in city limits is not included in the construction totals as no building permits are required. Besides 133 new homes, Victoria built 4 duplexes, three apartments, six stores and office buildings, two assembly halls, seven warehouses, two factories and workshops, and seven commercial garages or service stations.

Building totals for Victoria over the last five years are, 1956, $7,937,808; 1955, $8,490,548; 1954, $7,332,125; 1953, $7,095,882; 1952, $5,081,696.

Saanich showed a 50 per cent increase in building values despite the decrease in the number of units built. Basis of estimates for costs jumped from $4 per square foot to $10 per square foot.

Saanich construction total of $7,522,140 includes cost of 491 dwellings and the new $890,000 Queen Alexandra Solarium, as well as one store and six garages. There were no duplexes, apartments, assembly halls, warehouses or factories constructed.

Effect of the increased valuation basis is seen in the report that 555 dwellings built in 1956 had a listed value of only $3,647,110. The 491 new homes in 1957 were valued at $6,666,200.

Total value of permits increased in Oak Bay from $2,562,818 in 1956 to $3,167,787 last year with 401 and 407 permits issued in the respective periods.

The annual figures showed 115 dwelling permits worth $1,817,200 in 1957 against 126 worth $1,798,100 the previous year. A big jump was due to issue of a $465,000 permit for the Oak Bay High School addition.

Esquimalt construction showed a big drop last year when only 176 permits were issued, worth a total of $380,208. Corresponding figures for 1956 were 244 permits worth $1,957,256.

The figures included 55 dwelling permits worth $675,220 in 1957 and 94 worth $1,149,450 in 1956.

service between England and France.

"It is a big success," he said. "The planes carry more cars and from France than the Dover-Calais ferry."

THREE CARS

Mr. Tennyson said the specially-designed Bristol carrier would be able to carry three private cars, passengers, and freight in one trip.

He estimated one plane would carry back and forth an average of about seven cars and passengers in an hour.

(The Victoria-Vancouver boat carries about 40 cars in a one-way trip, taking about five hours.)

The fares, Mr. Tennyson said, would be no higher than the boat rates.

The Bristol Freighter can carry about 16,500 pounds, plus passengers. It is faster than the Dakota aircraft now in use between Victoria and the mainland.

12 MINUTES

He estimated it would take about 12 minutes to make the Victoria-Vancouver run. The distance by water is 72 miles, whereas the air-distance is about half that.

Mr. Tennyson said the service could be operated economically.

"All facilities already exist at Patricia Bay airport," he said. "The Bristol aircraft is so designed that it only needs a short take-off and a runway of normal length."

"I've had experience with this type of aircraft both in Europe and South America," Mr. Tennyson said. "They have proved successful and could be put to good use in this province, not only as an auto air-service, but to transport heavy machinery to northern British Columbia."

Civil Rights Study Gets Ike Sendoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a sendoff from President Eisenhower, the new United States civil rights commission embarked today on a 20-month study of the country's touchy racial problems.

The six members, who still are subject to confirmation by the Senate, were invited to the White House to take the oath of office and confer with the president.

On the commission are three Southerners and three Northerners—one of the latter a Negro. To them, Congress has assigned the difficult job of finding and treading some sort of middle ground on racial and rights problems, then coming up with some kind of constructive report and recommendations by Sept. 9, 1959.

One immediate need is to find a staff director, who will be chief administrative officer and shopkeeper for the commission at a salary of $22,500 a year. The president will make the appointment after talking it over with the commission. The staff director's nomination also is subject to Senate confirmation.

McPHILLIPS:

March 31 'Likely' For Election

Canadians are "ready and anxious" for another federal election now, Victoria Conservative MP A. de B. McPhillips said here.

In a talk to the Victoria Young Progressive Conservative Association Tuesday, Mr. McPhillips said March 31 was "a very likely date."

Present session of Parliament should be over by the end of this month, he said, "and a week or so later we expect to be opening up campaign headquarters and getting down to the matter of an election."

... HILLARY

Continued from Page 1 some of the most difficult and treacherous surface on earth. They hit relatively good weather at first but earlier this week it got so bad Hillary radioed that he was almost beaten.

At one point he considered abandoning his machines completely and finishing on foot.

Continuation of poor conditions of the last few days gave Hillary and his four companions a difficult time, but the expected loss of height as they descended into the polar basin gave the tractors a welcome drop in altitude of 800 feet, and the engines responded immediately.

SECOND YEAR

For the first time in several days the drivers were able to move from low to second gear. Hillary's pace across the glaciers and snowdrifts was phenomenal—up to 56 miles a day—until the party hit the worsened conditions this week.

With barely 100 miles to go Hillary had to abandon one Snotcat, jettison all but a minimum of fuel and gamble on making it with lighter weight. The gamble succeeded.

Hillary had about a 150-mile start on the 50-year-old Fuchs. He had the added advantage of not being tied down to making scientific measurements as he dashed across the continent.

But there was a touch of heroism in his decision to make the last 500-mile run with only light equipment and no particular advance planning.

Scott base reported that Hillary talked to Fuchs by radio early this morning when Hillary was still 45 miles from the Pole. Their conversation was not relayed here.

At the pole the five New Zealanders joined 17 Americans stationed at the International Geophysical Year base the United States has established. Hillary's companions are Murray Ellis, Peter Mulgrew, Jim Bates and Derek Wright. Most of their trek was made in never-ending daylight. The party preferred to travel at "night," when temperatures had dropped a little and the snow surface was harder, and mostly slept during the "day."

The cold, hazardous trip took them along the Ross Ice Shelf, up the Skelton Glacier and over the treacherous, crevasse-torn polar plateau.

FLAGS CARRIED

Among their stores they carried two New Zealand flags to plant at the pole, marking their country's efforts in Antarctic exploration.

In London the New Zealand high commissioner, Sir Clifton Webb, immediately sent a message in which he told Hillary: "As London welcomed you after Everest, so again we extend hearty congratulations to you and all the New Zealand party on your splendid achievement in reaching the South Pole."

Tass news agency reported here meanwhile that a Russian Antarctic party on its way towards the "pole of inaccessibility"—the centre of the Antarctic continent—has arrived at a depot 235 miles from Mirny, the main Soviet base.

Liquor Interests Sued Over Shares

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER—The family of the late Hugh John Davis started suit in Supreme Court here Thursday against two United Distillers companies, now in liquidation, and their directors.

HIS ARMY FAITHFUL, Venezuela's General Marco Jimenez today was mopping up after crushing a revolt by the air force that had broken out New Year's Day at Maracay airfield near Caracas. Eighteen of the rebel leaders fled by air to Colombia where they were granted asylum. (AP wirephoto.)

The suit concerns 58,454 shares in United Distillers Limited which were sold about 1943 for $5.50 each. The claimants allege they were really worth about $25 each.

The Davis family charges a conspiracy to conceal from them the profits earned by United Distillers and misrepresentations to induce them to sell their shares at a price less than their actual value.

The claimants are Mrs. Beatrice Davis, widow, and her daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Emma Read, and her two children.

Defendants include Albert Loftus McLennan, George William Norgan, the executors for the estate of the late Isadore Joseph Klein, Hyman Harvey Klein, executors of the Davis estate, United Distillers Limited and John Dunbar & Company Limited, three Cuban companies and the Seaboard Syndicate of Panama.

STUDENTS CHARGED

NORTH VANCOUVER—Two North Vancouver students were charged Thursday with breaking and entering in connection with two incidents at a high school here in which $10,000 damage was done.

Police said the two, aged 16 and 17, may be charged later with causing wilful damage at the new $750,000 school.

NEW CARS BURNED

VANCOUVER—Gasoline-fed flames destroyed two new cars and badly damaged the downtown service garage of Vancouver Motors here Thursday.

The blaze, which tied up rush-hour traffic for 30 minutes, erupted in the gas tank of a new automobile undergoing repairs in the concrete building. It quickly spread to another automobile, then to the roof of the garage before being extinguished by firemen.

VANCOUVER—Fire broke out in the community kitchen of the Park Apartment Hotel Thursday night, causing $10,000 damage to the building. Six persons escaped without injury.

Anti-West Talk Not War Sign, Says UN Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Dag Hammarskjöld, United Nations secretary-general, says the anti-Western attitude of the recent Cairo conference of Afro-Asian delegates should "not be interpreted as a sign that we live in a world which must come to clashes."

The roots of what newspapers have called "anti-Westernism" were well-known to all, he told a press conference Thursday, but that kind of reaction was not the same as a "bellicose and expansionist mentality which creates an immediate danger of war."

Asked about reports that he might have a role in trying to bridge the gap between East and West, he said it is "quite obvious that this is a case where the United Nations machinery and other diplomatic machinery is at the service of governments."

At the same time, he cautioned against any interpretation that this was "any kind of hidden invitation."

U.K. Reported 'Near' Harnessing H-Bomb

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—British board of trade president Sir David Eccles declared here Thursday that Britain may succeed in harnessing the hydrogen bomb for peaceful power production before 1960.

Eccles is presently on a tour of the United States, Canada and Mexico in the interest of increasing trade.

"We are very nearly there," he said. "We hope to begin producing electric power from the H-bomb soon, but when I cannot say... possibly within a year or two years."

(Leading American scientists at the American Physical Society meeting here recently admitted that the British had made important advances toward controlling H-power, but said they believed the ultimate goal was still "anywhere from 10 to 1,000 years away.")

Eccles said the development of H-power was vitally important to Great Britain which has no water power, no oil and little coal or uranium.

Hydrogen power would utilize deuterium of which there is an inexhaustible supply in sea water.

Only 100 'Leftovers' At City Post Office

Of the 100,000 letters and cards handled by the Post Office here over the Christmas season, only 100 are still undelivered.

These are letters and cards improperly addressed.

Unsealed Christmas cards for which the addressee can't be located are sent to the undeliverable section of the Vancouver Post Office. Sealed first-class mail gets more attention with attempts to track down the address through the directory. If this fails they are also sent to Vancouver.

In Vancouver, mail and parcels are processed again and as a last resort articles are opened. If this fails to disclose the owner, they are sent to the dead letter office in Ottawa and if unclaimed, articles are sold by auction at year's end.

U.S. Senator Demands U.K. Pay Due Debt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Henry Dworshak (Rep-Idaho) called on the administration today to demand that Britain use some of its "surplus" tax money this year "to pay its debt rather than on a tax cut for British citizens."

His statement said Peter Thorneycroft, British chancellor of the exchequer, has announced a budget surplus of $1,400,000,000 virtually assuring a tax cut.

"It takes a lot of nerve to turn around and almost in the same breath announce that Great Britain is going to ask Uncle Sam to again postpone $134,000,000 in loan repayments," Dworshak said, and added:

"We have spent $6,842,000,000 in foreign aid to England since the war. I don't think it fair to the American taxpayer for the British to reap a $1,400,000,000 profit off our aid program."

City Hall Observer Peers Into Municipal Future for 1958

By PETE LOUDON, Times City Hall Reporter

Looking ahead into 1958, some events in the municipal field can be predicted with reasonable confidence:

The B.C. government will scuttle Victoria amalgamation in 1958 and turn down requests for a royal commission to study municipal union.

A private bill for a separate charter for Victoria will fail.

Taxes will rise.

Woodward Stores Ltd. will choose a store site in the city, but not that of the present city hall.

And here's why.

There are top level figures in the government who say amalgamation is like getting married—you have to try to find out. What the municipalities want a Royal Commission to tell them, is what municipal union will do to municipal taxes. In effect, will it hurt?

The experts say too many factors cannot possibly be known in advance—the general economy of the country, the demand for services, the demand for improved wages, the demand for increased welfare disbursements.

Greater Victoria has already had services of a reliable firm of investigators. In 1956 the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada conducted a lengthy study of amalgamation in this area. All municipalities bared their books. All possible co-operation was given.

The report recommended full amalgamation. A committee was set up to study the report. It collapsed before the report was fully analyzed. No single municipality either praised or condemned the report.

'NO' Is Answer to $50,000

The experts ask: Does anyone think the government will spend $50,000, the estimated cost of a royal commission, in view of all this? Their prediction is no.

Few of those in the know feel there is any better hope for Victoria's bid for a private charter. Vancouver has the only private charter in B.C. The non-conformity with the rest of the province has been difficult in the past and a certain amount of duplication of legislation has been inevitable.

Victoria, with its population of 54,584, is not so much larger than several other B.C. communities that the precedent of a private charter might not cause similar requests from other centres. This would dilute the scope of the new Municipal Act. So a thumbs down vote is predicted.

Woodward Stores' negotiations with the city have been under way now for six weeks; nothing has happened. The company has options on numerous properties close to city hall and has indicated it would buy the hall, the fire hall and the market building, as well as a block of Cormorant Street, if the price is right.

But when the company first started taking options, the word got around—and the prices went up.

It is now understood the store would save on initial property investments by using its own land which faces on Pandora, Blanshard and Cormorant. It also holds options on other buildings in this area. The location might not be as advantageous. The property deal might be cheaper.

In view of the long lapse in negotiations with the city, however, most guesses favor the Pandora-Blanshard site...

unless the city council almost gives away its downtown property, and this isn't thought likely.

And now, a few minor predictions:

The new fire hall will be built on the site of the old Yates Street hall. But there may be some delay while all funds set aside for the Point Ellice Bridge are gathered in. Until it is paid off, the funds for the fire hall are not a bird in the hand.

The federal department of transport has promised $108,000 approximately, but it isn't here yet. Until it comes, the province won't match it. And so far the city has only an oral commitment from the province.

Delays with the fire hall, likely will push the new garbage disposal system and wharf into 1959.

The roundabout will be a noisy issue again in 1958. Although council is now on record in support of a one-way street system to replace the fountain circle, there will be new attempts by Douglas Street merchants to wash out one-way streets.

Big argument will be that the new bridge, the new through-way on Bay Street, and the current direction plans at the roundabout, will make it less of a bottleneck.

The roundabout now has signs on each approach cautioning drivers to yield the right of way to cars already in the circle. This is a simple plan. Opponents to one-way streets will argue it is working 100 per cent.

There will be a move to dress up city hall, despite the argument it might be headed for demolition. But this year, Victoria will host HRH Princess Margaret, the prime minister of the Commonwealth, the prime minister of Canada, the premiers of the nine other provinces, the mayors of Canada, and other notables from around the world.

All of them may be expected to be received by the mayor at city hall. The paint-up, clean-up, decorate campaign should be well under way by April.

Plywood Mills Reopen Monday

525 Men Back to Work; Market Future Uncertain

B.C. Forest Products plywood plant will resume operations Monday, the company announced today.

About 325 men were idled when the plant shut down Dec. 23 for the usual Christmas holiday period, which was extended this year because of unfavorable market conditions.

The plant will start up with the first shift Monday, at 8 a.m.

A company spokesman said there had been no improvement in the market since the shut-down, and continuation of the operation "depended largely on a seasonal upswing."

The second plywood plant in the area, Sooke Lake Lumber

Company, also will start a two-shift operation Monday.

The company laid off one shift of 100 men on Nov. 22 and shut down completely at the start of Christmas week, putting another 100 men out of work temporarily.

"We feel optimistic that there will be enough business developing in the near future," manager Alex Hendry said.

'Future of UBC In Our Hands', Says Chancellor

Fund Campaign Dinner Tonight

Victoria's drive to raise funds for the overcrowded University of British Columbia goes into high gear tonight with a keynote address by Dr. A. E. Grauer, chancellor of UBC and president of the B.C. Power Corporation.

"We shall need all the support we can get from Victoria's public-spirited citizens," said the tall, distinguished chancellor.

He emphasized that the crowded university, with 8,700 students now and an expected 15,000 by 1965, faces a grim future unless building funds can be raised, with continued use of dilapidated huts for lecture rooms and a desperate shortage of living space for students.

"The future of UBC is in our hands," Dr. Grauer said.

Dr. Grauer will give the keynote address at a UBC fund drive dinner for more than 200 team captains and canvassers in the Empress Hotel ballroom tonight at 6:30 p.m.

Times publisher Stuart Keate, as Victoria chairman of the fund, will preside and guests will include B.C. Education Minister Leslie R. Peterson, Mayor Percy Scurrell, Dr. Harry Hickman, principal of Victoria College, and Aubrey Roberts, assistant to the president of UBC.

A new color movie depicting the university campus will have its first showing at the dinner. The UBC fund has already reached the $3,000,000 mark in its drive to raise $7,500,000 toward urgently-needed buildings and facilities.

The B.C. government has promised to match every dollar contributed by the public up to $7,500,000. And the federal government is pledged to a $5,000,000 contribution to be added to those of the public and the provincial government.

The province is committed to an additional $10,000,000 for building over a 10-year period. Corporate and individual donations are expected to make up the bulk of the $7,500,000. About $700,000 will be sought from alumni of the university, including $100,000 from Victoria and vicinity.

Man Collapses, Dies in Garage

A Victoria man who collapsed in a garage at his home this morning was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital. Clifford W. Kirkham, 52, of 238 Moss, was found at 9:30 a.m. lying between a car and the wall of the garage. He was taken to hospital by city police.

Mr. Kirkham had been a salesman at the T. Eaton Co. for eight years prior to June, 1957. McCall Brothers are in charge of funeral arrangements.

Pulp Strike End Thought Doubtful

A union official in Vancouver today expressed doubts that British Columbia's pulp and paper strike will be settled quickly.

H. L. Hansen, international representative of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, said talks with representatives of the seven strike-bound companies "may resume" Saturday.

"This hasn't been definitely decided," he added. "We are not optimistic about the outcome of any meeting."

Six thousand pulp workers have been holding out for a wage increase since Nov. 14. The base rate for the industry was $1.72 an hour and the average was about $2.30. The companies offered 7½ per cent more. The union asked 12½ per cent.

'Little Help' to B.C. In Access Road Offer

An offer made by the federal government today to share with the provinces the cost of building forest access roads this winter is not expected to be of much benefit to B.C.

Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton announced in Ottawa that Parliament will be asked to vote $1,000,000 at the current session to cover anticipated federal expenditures.

The plan should provide jobs for between 1,000 and 2,000 men, he said.

B.C. Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston said there appeared to be some "confusion" and he would have to get further clarification.

However, Mr. Williston said the situation in B.C. is different from other provinces.

Because this province is the only one with a sustained-yield forest program, our access roads have a two-fold purpose—to get the logs out and to aid in fire protection.

Earlier this year, B.C. signed a five-year agreement with the federal government to share costs of fire protection.

Mr. Williston said most of B.C.'s access roads are to public working circles in the Interior, where it would be impossible to carry out construction in the winter months.

Companies with forest management licences on the coast must build their own access roads.

Mr. Williston added that he didn't want "to throw cold water" on the federal proposal.

WELCOMED

"If this represents a new attitude on the part of the federal government to share in the cost of access roads, it will be welcomed," he said.

The minister said $1,000,000 spread over the 10 provinces would not mean much to this province, which spends close to $4,000,000 annually on forest access projects.

Renewed Request For Public Works

Victoria Labor Council has renewed its request to the federal works department for projects which would reduce current unemployment in Victoria area.

"The government has failed to realize the seriousness of the situation," says a letter mailed today to Public Works Minister Howard Green.

Current federal works in this area are "... inadequate, inasmuch as the majority of the projects would have been carried forward in any case..." The work involved is too little to alleviate the problem, the letter stated.

Sikh priest Munshe Singh Dukhi winds turban.

THEY'RE DISTURBIN' THE TURBAN

Sikhs Unwinding Headgear

By TONY DICKASON

Wearing of turbans by Sikh men in British Columbia appears to be on the way out.

Nearly all the sect adherents are unwinding their headgear and going modern.

A spokesman for the East Indian community in Greater Victoria, Kuldeep Bains, himself a Sikh, wears a hat and says most of his contemporaries are getting haircuts and "going along with the times."

Wearing of the turban, along with leaving the hair uncut and growing of beards, was started around 1700 A.D. by religious leader Govind Singh as part of admittance rites into the militant order.

GOOD FIGHTERS

Sikhs, a sect of dissenters from Brahmanical Hinduism, have long been known as fighters, and good ones.

In religious wars of the past, if the Sikhs wore beards and had long hair, it saved them slaughtering one another in the heat of battle. Compatriots were readily identified.

Turbans called "pugri" are common in India, but the beard is the trademark of the Sikh.

Mr. Bains hazarded the guess that if Govind Singh was around today he'd suggest his adherents visit a barber and buy a hat.

TWO FEET

The "kes" or unshorn hair can grow to a length of two feet. It is worn in a top-knot under the turban.

The turban itself, from three to five yards long, and from two to three feet wide, can be made of cotton, linen, silk or any other suitable material.

"They aren't hot, even over the hair," said one turbaned millworker. "In fact, they keep the heat off."

INDOORS TOO

Turbans are worn indoors as well as out, and are removed only for bed or bath. They aren't always re-wound each time they're put on, though some turban purists prefer to do this—like persons who insist on hand-tieing their bow ties.

There are fashions in turbans—methods of winding and color. These fashions are set in the Patila State in northern India, home of the Sikhs. Some of the college boys become quite foppish in turban colors and arrangements.

Most Sikhs have several of the head shrouds, in different colors. While there is no actual significance in the colors, it would still be inappropriate to wear a black turban to a wedding.

Black is generally reserved for funerals; bridegrooms try to don yellow turbans.

They are less expensive to clean than hats—just wash and iron.

There are about 3,000 Sikhs in British Columbia, 1,000 on Vancouver Island and about 200 in Greater Victoria.

This presents a fair challenge to hat manufacturers.

Beer Parlor's Missing Cash Called Stolen

Sack containing $12,000 in cheques and cash missing from Tudor Holdings Ltd. since Dec. 21 "must now be considered as stolen," Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe said today.

"It was first considered to be misplaced... and it might even be mislaid at this time," the chief said, "but it would appear now that there is very little chance of that."

The sack contained $4,500 in cash in denominations of $20s, $10s, $5s and $1s, the chief said, and the $7,500 in payroll cheques made out to employees of HMC Dockyard, Yarrow, Pollard Construction and B.C. Forest Products Ltd.

All are thought to have been stamped on the back "The Tudor Holdings Ltd."

Chief Stancombe said the Greater Victoria area "has been thoroughly covered and no attempt has been made to cash these cheques."

The sack of money and cheques were taken from a safe in the office of the beer parlor sometime between 10 p.m. and midnight, he estimated.

MONTE ROBERTS

The usual practice of this column, on its first appearance in the New Year, is to open with a cheery greeting, such as:

"You have had 57. Do you wish to try for 58?"

But on this, the first printing of 1958, we do not feel up to a cheery greeting.

We are trying to decide between two openings, the rather pessimistic:

"You have had three. Do you wish to bother trying for the other 367?"

Or the possibly less gloomy cliché:

"After all, the first 100 years are the hardest."

The reason for this column's attitude is, it takes a dim view of 1958.

This column even refuses to make its usual fearless forecasts for the year ahead.

Because the year ahead, in the opinion of this column, holds nothing to which to look forward to. To whom.

It is not that this column fears Russian domination of outer space. Or inner space.

It is not that this column feels the United States might teeter over from the brink of war and fall over the brink of exhaustion.

It is not that this column views with alarm the possibility of a schism between the Middle East and the Middle West. Or even of a Chisholm between Brock and Santa.

It is not that this column considers it possible the cold war will get hot in the Arctic, thus leaving Canada exposed to invasion without thermostatic control.

Even the possibility of guided missiles, and the probability of misguided missiles, does not alarm this column unduly.

But, as we edge cautiously into the year 1958, we are faced with an indubitable indubitability.

The year nineteen hundred and fifty eight is the year in which the forces of evil, disguising themselves under the cloak of progress, are going to:

BLOW UP RIPPLE ROCK

Ah, the tragedy of it all! In this, our Centennial Year, to destroy one of the great features of this vast province.

Ah, the irony of it all! To preach conservation of our natural resources, and then blow up Ripple Rock—a natural resource if ever there was one.

But perhaps it is not too late for one more impassioned plea.

Put away your dynamite, boys.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Members of Victoria Rotary Club took their sons and daughters with them to Thursday's luncheon meeting at the Empress Hotel. A special Christmas entertainment was arranged.

Robert R. McDermott, 67, of 393 Island Highway, is in fairly good condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital after collapsing at the wheel of his truck Thursday night.

The truck was being towed by a car driven by James O. Streton, 415 Island Highway, along the Old Island Highway near Six-Mile House when Mr. McDermott slumped over the wheel. He was taken to hospital by Langford ambulance.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Could you please tell me the dates of the launching and wrecking of the British sloop Algerine based at Esquimalt in 1914?—W.B.

A.—She was launched at Devonport in 1895 and commissioned in 1897. She was recommissioned for the last time at Esquimalt in 1913. She was the depot ship for Esquimalt through the First World War, and in 1919 was sold to the Pacific Salvage Company. In 1923 her career came to an end, for on Oct. 13, at 5:30 p.m., she went ashore on Brodie Reef in Principe Channel inside Banks Island. It was decided to sell her for junk, and this was carried out early in 1924.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor, questions and answers will be published daily.

Drivers will be asked to make fuller use of the new Point Ellice Bridge.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today he will ask erection of a sign at Esquimalt Road and Catherine Street directing northern Victoria, and Saanich cars eastbound, to use Point Ellice route.

It is quicker and more direct than the Johnson Street span. The mayor felt the closure of Point Ellice for five months this year for reconstruction created a driving habit which adds to the rush hour jam on Johnson.

Only 62 Victorians have registered with centennial program planners as "pioneers" and officials are seeking more names. "Pioneers" include those born or resident in B.C. prior to July 4, 1886. Special entertainment is planned for the old timers and scrolls will record their names. Registration may be made at Suite 101, Yarrow Building; the downtown office of Victoria Press, 1215 Broad; or at the Douglas Room of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Robert Roy Fraser, 1005 Dunford, pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court Thursday to a charge of careless driving. He was remanded to Jan. 8, when he will face another charge of driving while ineligible for a driver's licence.

B.C. area commander Brig. J. W. Bishop will inspect the First Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, at Work Point Barracks at 9 a.m. next Monday, at the battalion's first formal parade since arriving here from duty in Germany.

All of the battalion's 800 men will be on hand following leave.

Higher tax assessment notices are in store for many Saanich property-owners within the next few days.

Officials said today the re-assessment carried out in 1956 was $7,000,000 short of the total provincial officials said it should be, and further increases are in store for this year's taxes.

Most of the brunt will be borne by owners of older homes.

Frank Ramsdale, RCN, pleaded guilty in city police court today to being a minor in possession of liquor and was fined $15.

Defence Minister To Tour Service Establishments

Defence Minister George Pearkes will make a week-long tour of B.C. service establishments this month.

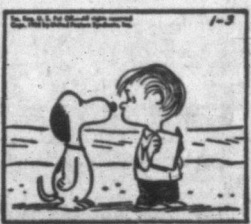

Gen. Pearkes will arrive in Victoria by RCAF transport on Jan. 11 and leave the Island on Wednesday to continue the tour on the mainland.

While in Victoria he will address a Canadian Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel ballroom on Monday, Jan. 13. Subject of his talk will be the recent NATO meeting in Paris.

Gen. Pearkes will be in Vancouver on Thursday and leave the next day for the Royal Canadian School of Military Engineering at Chilliwack.

He leaves by RCAF the next day for Calgary.

Gen. Pearkes, who spent a few days' holiday at his home here over the New Year, has now returned to Ottawa and resumption of parliament.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Is Your Skirt Too Tight?
Go on a Diet With Penny

By PENNY SAVER

Pull yourself in! You can't? There comes a time in our lives (especially after this holiday season) when skirts and trousers are extremely difficult to get into and to button! You've been nibbling on tidbits for over two weeks, and now... well, aren't you ashamed?

It's probably fortunate too, that you can't look another mince pie or chocolate in the eye, 'cause it would surely be the death of you and of that figure you kept so trim during 1952!

Come now, take hold of your will power! Spare a week off from your gluttony and... well, just pull yourself in!

LOUISE DAVIS

Tips for Anniversary Party:

We are old-fashioned people who never entertain, but we have many friends in our city where we have always lived. Our golden wedding is coming up in a few months and we want to give an open house. I don't know where to begin or what to serve. Are there caterers who will supply all the refreshments and do they have people to serve them? How about equipment such as glasses and china?

Louise Davis
Answers:

You will find caterers listed in your classified telephone directory. Select one that has complete equipment and be sure to check the available items such as punch bowl, ladle, punch cups, china, coffee server, trays, napkins, etc. If you wish to have the caterer's employees prepare and serve the refreshments, give the approximate number of guests you expect so that your party will be adequately staffed. A catered party, such as yours, is well worth it and, furthermore, you and your family will be relieved of the responsibilities. I presume your party will be in the afternoon, so I suggest that you serve punch, coffee, canapés, dainty sandwiches, salted nuts and petit fours. Perhaps you would like to order a decorated anniversary cake inscribed with the years, 1908-1953, also your names or initials. Best wishes to you both on your golden wedding day.

Here's the plan! Starting tomorrow morning, make it a resolution in your mind to cut out everything... but everything! Sounds drastic! Well, what I really mean is cut down on those gooey chocolates that are the end for any little figure!

Instead of drinking coffee or tea with heavy thick cream, pour skim milk in the cup... believe me it tastes almost as good! Ask your milkman to leave a quart or two of skimmed milk at your doorstep... it only costs 21 cents in the new waxed cardboard cartons.

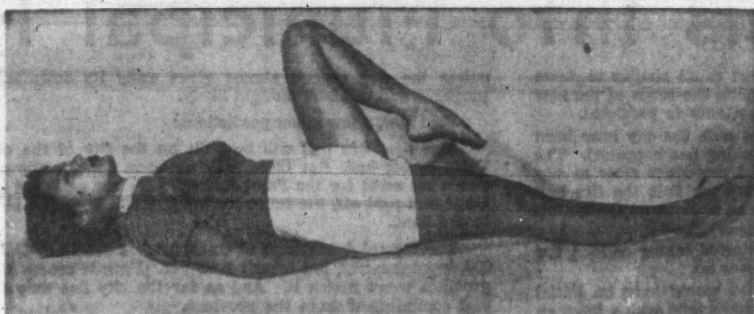

Low fat milk is another unfattering beverage, and it's priced at 24 cents. Remember, it has a low fat content... two and a half per cent fat!

Beating the battle of the bulge is harder than you think, but the new diet aids such as sugarless cookies of a very low calorie content can certainly help! It would be possible to eat three or four of these sugarless cookies and never gain a pound 'cause they're stuffed with fruit... raisins, figs, dates and apricots. Good, and good for you, at 45 cents a pound.

You don't have to cut out dessert on a diet either! Oh no! Cans of peaches, apricots and pineapple are selling now with absolutely no sugar content! Cans come at 35 cents.

Breakfast cereal is fattening! You may not have known it before this time, but cereal adds pounds to your figure. There is an exception to the rule and this is the uncooked rice puff cereal that one can eat cold or hot. Packages of this wonderful meal start at 25 cents.

Diet with me! Give me a call at 2-3131 for items in this column.

You will notice a satisfactory difference in your figure after only four weeks of exercise. Even after two weeks, many women notice an improvement.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q.—If I take figure molding exercises, how long will it be before I get results? If I do exercises every day for 20 to 30 minutes, is that long enough—and how long will it take to notice a difference?

A.—There is nothing you can do. This is just an inherited characteristic. However, you can make your brows look thicker by using an eyebrow pencil. No matter what your coloring, use a brown pencil. Even when your brows are dark, a dark brown pencil looks much more natural than black. Apply this with light, short strokes and then blend with an eyebrow brush or your finger.

A.—This depends partly on the individual. It also depends on the measurement you are attempting to slim. For instance the waistline responds most readily to exercise reducing. The abdomen is also most susceptible. It takes longer for the hips and thighs. However, I can assure you, from much experience with my classes, that you will notice a satisfactory difference after four weeks of regular exercises. Even after two weeks, many women find themselves a couple of inches slimmer through the waist and abdomen and have lost perhaps an inch from the hips.

Q.—I never had eyebrows, that is unless you can call this very fine and sparse hair over my eyes, brows. I am only 22 and have just tried to forget it until now. I am very interested in a young man and want to look as attractive as possible. What can I do to have thicker brows?

A.—There is nothing you can do. This is just an inherited characteristic. However, you can make your brows look thicker by using an eyebrow pencil. No matter what your coloring, use a brown pencil. The Victoria Lions Auxiliary held its annual luncheon in the private dining room of the T. Eaton Company. Arrangements were convened by Mrs. C. R. Savage and Mrs. F. Grossmith.

Mrs. A. R. Cann presided and welcomed as a guest, Mrs. L. Keyworth, a former member of the auxiliary.

Through the Silver Threads Handicraft Club the auxiliary donated $125 to purchase a hearing aid for a needy person and a letter of thanks was read from the recipient.

A donation of $100 was made to the Senior Citizens Society; $25 to CKDA Good Samaritan project; $25 to Goodwill Enterprises; $25 to the Community Chest and $25 to the Gorge Road Hospital for the upkeep of a room previously furnished by

Deep-Sea Ships At Vancouver Set New High

VANCOUVER (CP) — A record number of deep-sea vessels called at Vancouver during 1957: the harbor board said Thursday.

A total of 1,565 such vessels passed under the Lion's Gate Bridge during the year, compared with 1,425 in 1956. The total number of calls, including those of coastal vessels, tugs and ferries, was 44,397. There were 35 ships in the harbor Thursday.

Harbor officials said there is every indication the current grain year, which ends in July, will set up a new record. By the end of December 64,814-000 bushels had been shipped, compared with 49,815,000 bushels in the same period of 1956.

More than 13,000 bushels of grain were shipped out during December.

AT LONDON the stock market met a certain amount of selective support and gains predominated in most sections today.

The strength of sterling was the most stimulant and gilt-edged securities made further good progress. Japanese bonds were again prominent in foreigners.

In rails Canadian Pacific was better with other trans-Atlantic stocks.

Interest in the industrial market was confined chiefly to the leaders. Many of the miscellaneous leaders also attracted attention, including Hudson's Bay.

Oil shares fluctuated somewhat but then looked steadier.

AT VANCOUVER there was a slight rise in prices on a moderate market. Vantor sold 4,200 at $1.25. Cowichan Copper Explorations moved 2,000 at 16. Pacific Nickel traded 2,000 at 65.

Wheat Exports Show Increase

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canadian wheat exports in the week ending Dec. 18 totalled 5,679,000 bushels, a sharp increase from 3,237,000 bushels in the same period a year earlier, the Bureau of Statistics has announced.

At left visible supplies of Canadian wheat at 370,639,000 bushels, up 4.9 per cent from a year ago.

Overseas clearances thus far in the crop year, which began Aug. 1, were down slightly from 1956. They totalled 102,278,000 bushels compared with 103,149,000 in the same period a year ago.

Vancouver's 1957 Building Declines; Still Second Best

VANCOUVER (CP) — Building in Vancouver in 1957 dropped more than $7,000,000 from the record-breaking 1956 total but it was still the second best year in the city's history.

Preliminary figures released at city hall Thursday showed the 1957 total will be $57,200,000, compared with $64,600,000 in 1956.

The figures also show that the effect of "tight money" and other economic conditions affecting building has turned out to be generally less than was anticipated earlier in the year.

Construction of new homes, usually regarded as a barometer of economic conditions in Vancouver, actually showed an increase.

There were fewer homes built but the total value was up.

NO PRESENT PLANS TO TOUR FRANCE

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Churchill said Thursday the government has no plans at present of sending a trade mission to France, similar to the one that visited the British Isles.

He added, however, Canada would always welcome missions from France, Germany and other countries.

He was commenting on a Paris report which said France plans to send two missions of her own to Canada this year and is negotiating to get a Canadian mission to tour French industry just as Canadians toured British industry.

Canada to Protest U.S. Curb on Oil

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming said today the Canadian government will send a note to the United States government protesting the recent presidential order restricting imports of crude oil in the Pacific coast area.

He made the statement in the Commons after Opposition Leader St. Laurent and CCF leader Coldwell asked whether there had been any exchange of notes on the matter.

Mr. Coldwell said he felt the "voluntary" import restrictions ordered by President Eisenhower Dec. 24 were a violation of declarations of economic co-operation made following the NATO summit meeting in Paris last month.

The communiqué said the NATO nations would co-operate among themselves for economic stability and expand trade by reducing trade barriers.

The oil import curb, announced Christmas Eve, will affect directly Canadian exports for the first time. Major U.S. importers were asked to reduce crude oil imports into the west coast area by 15 per cent during the first six months of this year.

The U.S. move will likely result in production cutbacks by Canadian oil companies of between five and 10 per cent.

Mr. Fleming said the American move resulted largely from a campaign by oil producers, particularly those without production outside the U.S., for curtailed imports.

Mr. Fleming added the voluntary oil import restrictions ordered by the U.S. administration have not yet affected shipments of Canadian oil to the American mid-western states, the secondary outlet for Canadian oil south of the border.

Mr. Fleming said the U.S. restrictions on Canadian oil imports make no sense.

Not only that, but they were an offence against the tenor and principles of Canada-U.S. defence co-operation laid down in an exchange of notes between the two governments Oct. 26, 1950, in the first year of the Korean War.

Mr. Fleming said the restrictions are in ill accord with the communiqué issued after the NATO summit meeting in Paris last month.

The communiqué said the NATO nations would co-operate among themselves for economic stability and expand trade by reducing trade barriers.

NEW SERVICE MAY FLY CARS TO VANCOUVER

Khrushchev Asks 'Angel Of Peace'

MOSCOW (AP)—Every newspaper in Moscow today took up the Soviet cry for a meeting between Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev in a new year's toast said such a meeting could solve most of the world's problems.

The Moscow papers printed assortments of reports from New York, London and elsewhere under identical headlines saying "people of the world favor meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev."

Khrushchev made what almost added up to a prayer for peace in his toast of friendship to the "wonderful American people" at a new year's reception in Moscow Thursday night.

TOAST PROPOSED
His toast as reported by Moscow radio:

"I propose a toast for America, for the wonderful American people, for President Eisenhower, a toast to have America and the U.S.S.R. reach agreement on abolishing the cold war, to have the angel of peace over us and not the demon of war."

Top Polish Scientist Joins West

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Rogers today announced the defection to the West of Dr. Jerzy Leon Nowinski, internationally known Polish scientist.

The attorney-general said in an address at a National Press Club luncheon that Dr. Nowinski, a specialist in thermoelectricity, was granted asylum in the United States Thursday.

Similar asylum will be granted to his wife, Maria Franciszka, and their daughter, Kristina, seven, both of whom are now in England, Rogers said.

Nowinski, 52, has for the last seven years been a professor at the University of Warsaw.

His specialty is a field of mathematical theory involving the stresses on metals and other materials under varying temperatures.

Knowledge in that field is particularly valuable in dealing with the problems of air friction encountered in jet aviation, rocketry, and in handling the extreme temperatures of nuclear reactions.

Dr. Nowinski was described as being more familiar with Russian work in this field than most U.S. scientists.

He has published more than 60 articles on the subject.

Hees Making Plans for B.C. Ship Service

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister George Hees said today he will make a full statement in the Commons Monday on negotiations with West Coast shipping companies for provision of passenger service to communities along the British Columbia Coast previously supplied by the Union Steamships with the help of a federal subsidy.

He said arrangements are now being completed.

Mr. Hees had said Dec. 19 that continuation of the subsidy would not be justified and Union Steamships Thursday stopped passenger service and curtailed freight service.

No Comment

Hillary Wins Double Race To South Pole

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP)—Mount Everest conqueror Sir Edmund Hillary won a double race to the South Pole tonight.

The New Zealander beat a rival British team and he did it with less than 20 miles' supply of fuel remaining.

Hillary and four other New Zealanders thus became the first men to reach the pole overland since Britain's Robert F. Scott in 1912.

But it was a close call. They had only one drum of gasoline left aboard their snow-cat tractor after a 24-hour forced march that covered 70 miles. It was good for barely 20 miles further travel.

And the five were so tired that the instant their sextant reading indicated the Pole, they camped on the spot.

They spurned the comfort of the relatively luxurious American polar base two miles away and bedded down as soon as they had radioed their success.

"Steering by the sun from earlier fixes we came bang on base," Hillary radioed to New Zealand's Scott base at McMurdo Sound.

"We are all very tired but well and very pleased to have arrived."

As for the fuel supply—"it was sufficient for 20 miles, so we were cutting it very fine."

12-Minute Flight Plan of Backers

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A newly-formed Victoria firm is seeking permission to operate an "auto-freight air service" between Patricia Bay and Vancouver's International Airport.

The firm, B. J. Tennyson Co. Ltd. which is backed by a small group of Victoria businessmen, has applied to the federal transport board for permission to operate the service.

It would enable a motorist to drive his car up a ramp into the aircraft and 12 minutes later drive off at Sea Island. It would also carry freight.

A similar service has been in operation for years between England and France.

pany, are interested in the proposal.

B. J. Tennyson, contractor, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce industrial development group, and a member of the firm, said the auto air service would provide an "economical air bridge" between the lower Vancouver Island and the mainland.

"We have gone into the matter thoroughly," he said. "We applied for permission to operate between Patricia Bay and Vancouver last week."

English transportation company, taking about five hours.)

The fares, Mr. Tennyson said, would be no higher than the boat rates.

The Bristol Freighter can carry about 16,500 pounds, plus passengers. It is faster than the Dakota aircraft now in use between Victoria and the mainland.

He estimated it would take about 12 minutes to make the Victoria-Vancouver run. The distance by water is 72 miles, whereas the air-distance is about half that.

Mr. Tennyson said the service could be operated economically.

"All facilities already exist at Patricia Bay airport," he said. "The Bristol aircraft is so designed that it only needs a short take-off and a runway of normal length."

"I've had experience with this type of aircraft both in Europe and South America," Mr. Tennyson said. "They have proved successful and could be put to good use in this province, not only as an auto air-service, but to transport heavy machinery to northern British Columbia."

Defence Purchases From U.S. To Be Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes indicated today the government will reduce purchases of defence material in the United States and order more from Canadian factories.

He said in the Commons that every effort is being made to ensure that there will be no continuation of practices such as described by a retired senior RCAF officer.
